Carpenters Win Full Support Of Labor Group

Costly Strike Looms as Builders Give Wheaton Financial Backing

Four separate moves last night set the stage for a strike in the multi-million-dollar construction industry which could be both long and costly.

These steps were taken:

1. The Victoria Building Industries Exchange flatly refused to meet the carpenters' wage demand of $1.68 an hour.
2. The Exchange voted to meet strike expenses of contractor George Wheaton, whose jobs were struck last week;
3. The Victoria Building Trades Council, union coordinating group for all organized workers on construction projects, voted to support the carpenters;
4. Carpenters prepared for the Government-supervised strike vote to be held today.

The Exchange in a statement last night reaffirmed that "it is prepared to accept the unanimous award of the conciliation board providing for an eight-cent increase (from $1.55 to $1.63, paid by the contractors on July 1) and that in view of the carpenters' refusal to accept this award as they agreed, that no further offer can be made.

"Since the union has taken strike action against the firm of George Wheaton as an individual," the statement said, "the Exchange hereby agrees to defray all cost of overhead and expenses incidental to the strike during the time Mr. Wheaton's work is shut down."

Heavy guns of the union, meanwhile, were thrown into the battle.

UNION ACTIVE

At a meeting of the Victoria Building Trades Council held in the Labor Hall the following resolution was passed:

"The delegates recommend to their local unions they give full support to the carpenters in their efforts to standardize wages and working conditions."

In effect this means other building trades probably will respect picket lines on all construction jobs legally struck by the carpenters.

Meanwhile, strike machinery of the Labor Relations Board has been geared to meet the strike vote which gets under way at 9.30 a.m. today. First vote is expected to be taken at the new Government administrative building on Government Street.

Officials of the L.R.B. and scrutineers, will tour nine of Victoria's largest construction jobs by car and pick up the carpenters' vote.

ABOUT 500 TO VOTE

Carpenters on the remaining ten jobs where the strike vote is being taken will cast their ballots on Friday between 4 and 7 p.m. according to union officials. No place has been set for the vote.

About 500 men, about two-thirds of the union membership, are expected to cast their ballot. On Monday at a general meeting of the union the carpenters decided that if the strike was called they would vote to strike.

J. A. Pollard, president of the Exchange, had this to say about the pending strike:

"It must be remembered that the accepted and lawful means of settling such a dispute is by reference to a conciliation board. In this instance the carpenters' representative on the board was William Page of Vancouver.

"Both disputing parties agreed to accept the unanimous award of the conciliation board. The carpenters have not kept their word. They have rejected the award and reverted to their original demands.

"To accede to these demands under threat of a general construction strike, and in face of strike action against one member, would be to abandon all principles and submit to what amounts to blackmail. To accept this principle would be to destroy the effectiveness of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act."

Navy Thinks Soviet Sub Within Three-Mile Limit

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP)—A Russian submarine has illegally entered Canadian waters, the navy indicated today. A second may be off Canada's East Coast too.

A spokesman at naval headquarters said its officers are convinced a craft seen inside the three-mile limit in the Bay of Fundy within the last three weeks, could have been nothing but a foreign submarine. He said it may quite possibly still be in that general area.

An official statement said "one or more submarines of an unknown nationality have probably been in the waters off the East Coast of Canada during the past month."

OFFICERS CONVINCED

The spokesman said naval officers, after sifting and resifting various reports by fishermen, are convinced a foreign submarine has been operating off the South Coast of New Brunswick.

He said they don't think it has pulled out and headed homeward.

Checks with Washington and London have shown that no American or British submarines were in that area in the weeks covered by a wave of sighting reports.

The only foreign power that could have one or two operating in Canadian Coastal waters is Russia, in the opinion of qualified naval officials. But the navy was careful not to mention Russia by name in its official utterances.

A sighting by George Tiner, Chance Harbor, N.B., fisherman, on July 5—one the navy is convinced is accurate—was definitely inside the three-mile limit.

The navy and air force are on the prowl, trying to spot the intruder. If he's outside the three-mile limit there's nothing they can do but shadow him. If he's inside, they can order him into the nearest harbor and take military action if he disobeys.

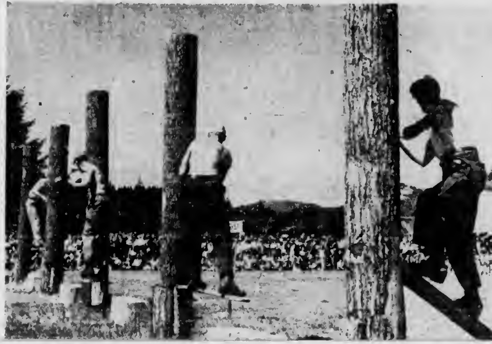
More Than 10,000 Jam Flats for All-Sooke Day



Colonist Photos by Jim [illegible]

More than 10,000 persons jammed into the Sooke area yesterday for 14th All-Sooke Day. One of the highlights of the interesting day was the tree-chopping contest, pictured above. In foreground is Victor Reines of Saanich, with Island champion Hugh McKenzie of Ladysmith farther down the line.

Big Hugh McKenzie, who won the title of best man on Vancouver Island with a great exhibition with the axe, is shown above as he flashes a victory smile for the cameraman. (For additional pictures, stories and results, see Page 26.)

Carriers Ordered Active With 45 Other Vessels

WASHINGTON, July 26 (CP)—With Congress pressing for faster and faster rearmament, the United States Navy today ordered three more aircraft carriers and 45 other warships into service. Meanwhile President Truman signed the $1,222,500,000 Foreign Arms Assistance Bill with a new warning that freedom-loving countries will stand together to thwart "those bent on aggression."

The Senate passed unanimously and returned to the House of Representatives a bill lifting all limits on armed services personnel strength until July 31, 1954. The House has passed a bill simply removing the ceiling with no time limit specified, and now must consider the Senate amendment.

PURE FORMALITY

Approval of President Truman's request for $10,486,976,000 more in military funds was regarded as a pure formality. Many legislators thought the total wasn't enough and were prepared to vote much more if needed.

Chairman Carl Vinson (Dem. Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee announced the expansion of the active fleet following a closed-door meeting of the committee.

In addition to the three large carriers, the Navy is going to send to sea six light carriers, two cruisers, 32 destroyers and five submarines. That will put a total of nine large carriers in service, plus 14 light carriers, 15 cruisers and 172 destroyers.

MORE ASSISTANCE

The arms bill authorizes a second year of American assistance specifically for 14 countries in Western Europe, Asia and the Middle East.

Truman issued a statement saying the arms bill marked another step toward the common goal of blocking aggression.

The arms bill total is slightly less than last year's $1,314,010,000, some of which was carried over. It is due to be followed shortly, however, by a new request to Congress for a probably larger outlay for the same purpose. Some of the President's advisers have recommended an additional $5,000,000,000. The size of the request is expected to hinge on negotiations at the current London meeting of the North Atlantic Council of Deputies who have been urged to speed Western European defence preparations.

Defence Secretary Louis Johnson and U.S. military chiefs went before a Senate appropriations sub-committee to back up the President's request for $10,486,976,000 more.

Belgian Deputies Quit

General Strike Proposed By Anti-Leopold Faction

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 26 (CP)—Socialists and Liberals, whose party followers have launched a wave of sabotage and strikes throughout the country, today walked out of the Belgian Chamber of Deputies.

Along with Communist deputies, they marched out of Parliament once again this afternoon as the pro-Leopold Roman Catholic Social Christian party, entrenched behind a strong majority, passed a vote of confidence in the Government it controls.

Two Socialists and two Liberals remained behind as observers. The Socialists voted against the motion and the Liberals abstained.

Following their announced intention to show every manner of protest against the king's return after six years in exile, the Socialists sent a paper to Leopold resigning their titles and decorations.

Socialist-led action committees started unlimited strikes today in an effort to depose King Leopold III. They also want wage increases and a 40-hour limit on the working week.

Officials estimated 120,000 men were idle in the big industrial centres of Liege and Charleroi alone.

All department stores in Liege were closed except one, which was heavily guarded. Streetcars stopped running.

Four-pronged nails—the kind used by the Belgian underground against motor vehicles of occupying Nazis during the war—were scattered on streets in some areas.

The first wave of sabotage on the country's railroads appeared to have subsided, although a dynamite blast in a tunnel cut the Liege-Paris line for several hours.

A general strike was called for tomorrow in Charleroi.

House Would Meet Before Troops Sent

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP). The question of providing ground troops for the United Nations in Korea is again under Cabinet consideration, at least informally.

The action of Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Turkey and Thailand in offering that form of aid has placed a new light on the Canadian position, taken a week ago, that no ground troops would be sent. (See story on page 2.)

Key Cabinet Ministers were expected to discuss this development during the day. However, the entire Cabinet was partly occupied with the funeral of former Prime Minister Mackenzie King, a factor which forced postponement of the regular Wednesday meeting.

Any Cabinet decision to send ground troops would not be made in a rush and, once made, would take the form of a recommendation to a reassembled Parliament.

There is some speculation that Parliament will be recalled to get an airing of opinions on whether Canada should take that step.

She has already sent three destroyers and a squadron of transport planes.

National Defence Headquarters is understood to have mapped out for the Government a whole series of possibilities. These vary from the year or so it would take to marshal a division to the brief period it would take to dispatch, say, a small force of regulars. They cover air, ground and sea activity and are related to the time element as well as to others.

One potential action is formation of a Commonwealth force now that several Commonwealth countries are in. The Government, in its reply to Trygve Lie's call for more aid to U.N. in Korea, offered consideration of an international force recruited by the U.N.

At Lake Success, this international force idea remains active but it has not crystalized, nor does it show immediate signs of doing so.

Good Raids Conducted By Allies

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (INS).—Allied naval and air force planes ripped into Communist troops and installations today and yesterday as the weather gave the airmen their fourth consecutive day of good bombing.

British and American carrier aircraft working in close support of ground troops on the central front for the first time strafed the town of Hwachon-Ni, northwest of Hamchang, and apparently struck an ammunition dump that exploded and practically demolished the town.

TANKS ATTACKED

Nine enemy tanks were seen fleeing from the town during the series of explosions. They were attacked and damaged.

Other Anglo-American carrier aircraft operating under the direction of the United States air force earlier struck tanks and troops to the valley northwest of Hamchang and caused a landslide that covered the road.

Far East air force's B-29 Superfortresses rained more than 180 tons of bombs on 20 selected bridges and two important marshalling yards. Most of the enemy targets were just below the 38th parallel border, including Seoul, Kaesong and the Chuhchon sectors.

B-26's attacked and possibly damaged pontoon bridges that the Reds are using across the Han River at Seoul in their attempt to keep supplies moving to the Communist troops fighting in the mountains far to the south.

AID STRAFING

Australian fighter pilots aided the Americans in strafing and rocket-bombing the enemy in the southwestern and central front sectors. Targets were located in the Sunchon, Kwangju, Chonju and the Yongdong-Taejon-Kongju sectors.

Two small gas dumps were set afire. Other incomplete damage reports listen ten tanks, 92 trucks, seven boxcars, five artillery pieces, plus four warehouses destroyed and five others left burning.

All the aircraft returned and met no aerial opposition although there was some enemy anti-aircraft fire in the Yongdong sector.

Correspondent Said Captured

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (INS).—Front reports from Korea said today that International News Service war correspondent Philip Deane has been captured by Communist troops.

There is no official confirmation of the reports, but Deane has failed to file any front dispatches for several days.

North Koreans Slowed in Drive Towards Pusan

MacArthur Visits Front Again, Speaks Encouragingly of Battle

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (CP). — Allied forces today blunted a menacing North Korean thrust 70 miles west of the main port of Pusan and stalled or shoved back the invader elsewhere on the 200-mile front.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said United States troops had made "slight withdrawals" east of Yongdong, 95 air miles northwest of Pusan. But these were only to strengthen hill positions.

Headquarters said there had been no important change on the front in the last 24 hours. Field dispatches, however, told of United States and South Korean attacks both south and northeast of Yongdong.

MacArthur and key officers today made a second visit to the Korean front to get a close-up view. MacArthur first visited the front June 29.

HADONG RECAPTURED

United States troops, supported by jet fighters, were reported to have recaptured Hadong, high point in a South Coast Red thrust to within 70 miles of Pusan.

Another aerial onslaught was said to have aided South Koreans in driving the North Koreans back north of Hamchang, 35 air miles northeast of Yongdong.

United States and British carrier planes flew in close support to battlefront forces yesterday.

General MacArthur's headquarters announcement early Thursday discounted the seriousness of the Red threat that reached across the South Coast to Hadong.

Hadong was captured Tuesday by North Korean forces which reached the sea in the southwest corner of Korea, turned eastward with virtually no opposition, and drove toward Pusan.

MacArthur's headquarters announcement issued at 12:50 a.m. Thursday did not mention American ground forces at Hadong. It said the North Korean Fourth Division in the West and South continued enveloping movements.

"However," the announcement added, "the number of troops involved over the widespread area is small and no alarm was expressed. Reports indicated that South Korean forces were moving up in the area and had retaken some towns on the fringe of the Red advance."

South Korean police and marines counter-attacking in the West, were reported to have thrust the invaders out of the road and rail centres of Namwon, 35 miles north of Hadong, and Shonju, 35 miles farther north.

Plane Down In Pacific

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (AP)—Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced today a C-47 transport plane from Tokio is down in the ocean about ten miles south of Oshima Island with 26 persons aboard.

One survivor has been picked up and a search is continuing for the others, the announcement said.

The plane was a regular courier plane bound for Kyushu.

There were 23 passengers and three crew members on board.

Infiltrating Red Snipers Harass U.S. Movements

By FRANK EMERY

ADVANCE AMERICAN COMMAND POST IN KOREA, July 27 (Thursday) (INS) — Infiltrating North Korean Communists Wednesday attempted to harass American movements on the Central Korean front with sniper fire from rice paddies and mountain tops.

It is the same old pattern of "sneak thief" warfare designed to confuse behind-the-lines operations, executed in the hope that Americans will not shoot what appear to be harmless refugees.

Snipers sometimes hide their weapons among the rice plants, firing them when the prospective targets get in range.

Another sniper tactic is the emplacement of light machine guns on hilltops to ambush lightly-defended vehicles passing below.

This tactic is usually confined to light automatic weapons because they are easier to carry and simpler to hide among bushes and trees on hillsides.

The only solution to this problem is to take your chances and carry weapons for protection.

Seven suspects were questioned at a regimental command post Wednesday. They wore baggy muslin plus-fours and upturned rubber shoes which is the dress of the Korean civilian.

Another North Korean dressed as a South Korean military policeman stopped a jeep and demanded that the occupants advance and be recognized. Then he shot both.

Mountainous Situation

Forces of U.N. Declared Established In Strongest Line in South Korea

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (INS).—American and South Korean forces are digging in today along the line they will have to hold to save the South Korean beachhead.

It is a mountainous line running from Ulchin to Yongdong and southwest to Sunchon. It is broken only by a pass along the Taejon-Taegu Road and it is at that pass that the United States First Cavalry Division is now prepared to make the most important defence stand of the war.

The cavalry's job is to hold the line until sufficient reinforcements arrive to begin a counter-offensive against the Reds.

That is why the cavalry did not fight for Yongdong but retired to better defensive positions deeper in the mountains.

General Douglas MacArthur and his staff officers are completely confident the overall crisis has ended although minor withdrawals probably will continue.

One high staff officer said Wednesday night:

"The rat race is over and an orderly defence has been established."

He explained that United Nations forces now are established "in the strongest natural defence line south of the 38th parallel in mountains reaching heights of 6,000 feet in some places."

MacArthur's staff officers believe the Red tanks will bog down on the narrow mountain roads where cover against an air attack is difficult to find because the tanks are forced to travel on roadways.

The staff also is confident "troops now committed will be able to hold until reinforcements arrive."

"You can say," one of the staff officers added, "that the situation is far from hopeless."

The Taejon-Taegu Road, down which the Communists are trying to drive, is a traditional attack route in Korea—for forces moving either way.

It runs along a sizeable pass through the mountains that define Korea's southeast corner, which the United Nations forces now hold—about one-fifth of Korea's total area of roughly 85,000 square miles.

There is a good deal of speculation as to why the Reds took the trouble to capture the western side of the peninsula. The most generally accepted theory is that they wanted to control the great western rice lands in the event an American offensive later forces them to adopt guerrilla tactics completely.

As guerrillas they would need the food from the rice lands, reputed to be the richest in Asia.

South Korea's mountains are not very high, but they are broad and offer good defensive positions. They are mostly stripped of timber, thus leaving little cover for troops in movement.

MacArthur's headquarters believes the strain of the war is becoming terrific on the Communists, who are forced to use untrained recruits to replace their losses.

Britain to Send Troops, Put Fleet on War Basis

LONDON, July 26 (AP). — Britain announced today she is sending a combat group of her regular army, including armor, to Korea and is putting her Far Eastern fleet on a war footing.

Australia and New Zealand also announced that they will send land forces to join United Nations units under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

These reinforcements augmented an offer of 4,500 trained combat troops by Turkey, 4,000 soldiers by Thailand, 30 officers by Bolivia, and a limited force by Cuba. Nationalist China has offered 30,000 veterans, but that offer was declined for strategic reasons.

POSSIBLY BRIGADE

How many British troops will be sent was not disclosed on security grounds. Qualified sources previously had indicated the force might consist of a battalion or a brigade—from about 1,000 to 5,000 men.

Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons: "There has been talk of drift. It is not drift this time. Where we had a challenge of aggression that challenge has been taken up and that challenge must be taken up.

"An approach was made to the Government of the USSR to associate themselves with this action. That has not been done. We regret it but it is no good departing from a principle on which the nations are agreed when we are challenged on that principle.

"In my view the best way to preserve the peace of the world is by taking definite action against aggression and showing that aggression does not succeed."

Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell told the Commons Britain had informed the United Nations she is ready to send "an effective land reinforcement, including infantry, armour, artillery and engineers, together with the administrative backing required to maintain it."

He added that the force "will be prepared without delay and will be sent to Korea as quickly as possible." This cannot be done at "a moment's notice," though, he said.

British regulars will make up the hard core of the expedition, he said, with already-trained conscripts making up the rest.

Will Not Hold Poultry Show

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP). — Newcastle disease, hitting Fraser Valley and Vancouver Island poultry flocks, has forced cancelation of the poultry exhibition at the Pacific National Exhibition here this year.

Tom Summerville of the P.N.E.'s poultry committee announced the cancelation tonight following a meeting with the board of control.

The ruling bars all exhibits of chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys and pigeons. It does not affect canaries and other caged birds.

"If one bird at the P.N.E. developed the disease," said an official, "the Government would step in and destroy every bird in the show. The risk is too great at this time."

Airlift Unit Surrounded By Secrecy

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP).—The R.C.A.F. airlift squadron, bound for Japan, landed at McChord Field, Tacoma, Wash., today.

The squadron of six North Stars, under command of Wing-Cmdr. Campbell Mussells of Montreal, landed in Vancouver from Winnipeg early this morning.

The first of the big transports headed for Tacoma at 8.58 a.m. and an R.C.A.F. spokesman said it landed at McChord Field at 9.42 a.m. The last plane landed at 11.43.

PLANES UNARMED

The planes, which left Montreal last night and halted in Winnipeg for refueling, will ferry supplies for U.N. forces in Korea. They will be part of a United States group on flights from an American base to Japan. They are unarmed.

At McChord Field, a big United States air base southwest of Tacoma and 120 miles south of Vancouver, a curtain of secrecy surrounded the arrival of the Canadian transports.

Because of security measures, no interviews were immediately permitted, civilian pictures were banned and no announcement of the landings was made by air base authorities.

The squadron—R.C.A.F. 426—carried 250 men, including mechanical and ground crews. It will be joined later by four more North Stars from R.C.A.F. stations.

Col. T. Allan Bennett, commanding officer at McChord, said the R.C.A.F. unit would remain at the base "for an indefinite period of time."

The group is on a 72-hour alert.

World Briefs on Korean War

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (INS).—Three Canadian destroyers will join units of the British Royal Navy within a week for operations in Korean waters, possibly on the Western Coast.

The Cayuga, Athabascan and Sioux were last reported near Guam, 1,000 miles from Japan, under command of Capt. Jeffrey Brock.

OSLO, July 26 (Reuters).—Members of Norwegian 'sailors' unions will get double wages for working in the Far Eastern war zones, it was agreed today by unions and ship owners.

Casualties will be paid on additional war risk insurance of $1,400.

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (INS).—American planes dropped leaflets on North Korea Wednesday telling of "the "terrible price" the North Korean leaders are paying for victories.

The leaflets show photographs of Allied aircraft blowing up a North Korean bridge and state:

"Your military leaders . . . have been gaining ground at a heedless loss of life.

"The troops of the United Nations soon will be moving north. Then the North Korean commanders will cry for the soldiers they are now killing so recklessly."

HONOLULU, July 26 (AP).—Executive of four International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union locals (C.I.O.) have pledged support to the United States Government in the Korean fighting.

Regional director Jack Hall said the action was taken last night by executive officers of the warehouse, longshore, pineapple and sugar locals.

CINCINNATI, O., July 26 (INS).—A heroic chaplain who won the loss of a coin and elected to risk his own life by remaining with 30 wounded Americans at the fall of Taejon, Korea, was identified today as a former Cincinnati priest, Rev. F. O. Felhoelter, of the Franciscan Order.

BUDAPEST, July 26 (INS).—A Hungarian hospital train left for North Korea today to help care for Communist casualties in the war now raging in the South Korean republic.

WITH U.S. TROOPS IN KOREA, July 26 (AP).—Maj.-Gen. Hobart R. Gay said today that six American divisions could whip the North Korean Communist Army and "walk to Seoul as fast as we could repair the bridges."

Gay, commanding general of the First Cavalry Division, told reporters that American forces now are in better defensive positions and will be able to put up a stronger fight.

LONDON, July 26 (Reuters).—Moscow radio today quoted Seoul radio as reporting that 48 members of the South Korean Assembly have "gone over to the side of our motherland and of the people fighting against Syngman Rhee's gang and the American imperialists." The 48 were said to have issued a statement branding the South Korean Assembly as treacherous.

TOKIO, July 27 (Thursday) (AP).—The Communist radio at Pyongyang said today that North Korean guerrillas are destroying highway and railroad beds in an effort to cut off American supplies from Pusan, major American supply base on the southeastern tip of the Korean peninsula.

LONDON, July 26 (Reuters).—Britain is sending Air Vice-Marshal Cecil Bouchier to Korea as senior military liason officer, Defence Minister Shinwell said during today's defence debate.

Bouchier, who will leave by air soon, was commander of the British Occupation Air Group in Japan.

Final Appeal Sent to Ottawa

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP). — A final appeal on behalf of two Korean immigrants scheduled to be deported has been sent to Immigration Minister Walter Harris in Ottawa, it was announced today by Lawyer John Taylor.

The Koreans, 22-year-old Young Wan Lee and 21-year-old Pong Chi Yue, surrendered to immigration authorities 10 days ago after two months as fugitives following their escape just before they were to be deported.

The appeal asking that the two be allowed to remain in Canada was sent by the Vancouver Immigration and Refugee Society. It carries the endorsement of the United Nations Society, at least one service club and the personal backing of several prominent citizens.

All Money Recovered

Police Hold Second Man As Bank Holdup Suspect

REGINA, July 26 (CP). — A hungry man sought to quench his thirst today and ended up in the arms of the law. The arrest ended Saskatchewan's biggest manhunt and led to recovery of $45,000 stolen from the Bank of Toronto at Wolseley, Sask.

R.C.M.P., who have scoured the Qu'Appelle Valley southeast of here since the robbery, Saturday, said Archie Dlugopolski, 23, surrendered quietly when their famous dog, Pal, tracked him to a wheat field.

He was armed with three loaded revolvers but didn't try to use them.

Another man, William Lukashuk, 30-year-old resident of Bourlamaque, Que., was captured two hours after the daring opening-hour robbery. He was charged with armed robbery. Police said they believe Dlugopolski also is from Quebec and related to Lukashuk. They said he will also be charged.

Cpl. Stan Wight of the Indian Head detachment said Dlugopolski, after eluding a police cordon for four foodless days, walked up to a Montmartre farmhouse about 60 miles southeast of here for a drink. The farmer phoned police.

TRACKED DOWN

He ran off before they arrived, but the dog tracked him down. Dlugopolski, police said, led them to his hiding place where they found a sack containing what appeared to be all the loot.

Later, he led constables to a spot where he had buried $125 in silver and a sawed-off rifle.

Police said he told them he and Lukashuk fled the holdup scene north from Wolseley, and that their car began giving them trouble. Dlugopolski took the money and guns and hid under a stone bridge. Lukashuk continued a few miles to Lemberg for repairs.

Dlugopolski became uneasy when time passed and he spotted a police plane. He traveled on foot at night, sleeping in granaries in the daytime.

Cpl. Wight said he was in pretty fair shape in view of his four-day existence.

Soviet Power Described By Shinwell

LONDON, July 26 (AP). — Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell said today that Russia has 2,800,000 men under arms, including "an appreciable number in immediate readiness" in Eastern Germany.

Shinwell told the House of Commons he has learned that the Soviet Union:

1. Maintains an army of 175 active divisions, of which a third are mechanized.
2. Has 19,000 military planes, including jet aircraft of the latest design—both bombers and fighters.
3. Has 25,000 tanks.
4. Could "double" its 2,800,000-man standing army by calling up reserves.
5. Has considerable naval forces which include strong fleets of submarines, many of them of modern design.
6. Is spending "not less than 13 per cent of its national income on its armed forces.

Despite this, Shinwell declared the Atlantic Pact countries and their Allies have manpower and material resources which "far exceed those of any opposing combination.

France Asks Concessions As Pact Partners Meet

LONDON, July 26 (AP). — The Atlantic Pact partners got down today to the detailed job of forging a unified army out of Western Europe's individual armed forces.

Less than 24 hours after they had converged on London for their first session as a civilian high command of the defences of the West, the pact's council of deputies plunged into the technical aspects of the problem behind guarded doors.

They met for three hours.

NEED UNDERSCORED

The need for an international army in which member states would contribute specialized forces and skills has been underscored by the war in Korea, a source close to the American delegation said.

The American chairman, Charles M. Spofford, is believed to have stated the view that now, more than ever before, Europe must put together a well-knit military organization capable of standing up to any size or type of blow from Russia.

Members taking part in the discussions are Canada, Britain, France, Denmark, Norway, Belgium, The Netherlands, Italy, Portugal, Luxembourg, Iceland and the U.S.

PARIS, July 26 (Reuters). — French participation in the rearmament drive being discussed in London by Atlantic Pact deputies will apparently depend on two conditions, it was learned from quarters close to Premier Rene Pleven.

One is that the military budgets of the Atlantic members be partially pooled. This means that the U.S. will be expected to make a substantial contribution to European defence costs.

The other is that each of the Pact partners make a contribution in men proportionate to its national wealth and population, and also, taking into account the rate of reconstruction in war-devastated countries.

The French Government believes Britain and the U.S. should station a substantial number of divisions on the continent in the near future, not once a war has started.

It is not prepared to repeat the experience of 1914 or 1939, when 90 to 100 French divisions, immediately mobilized, took the first and costly brunt of the attack while Britain came in at the beginning with small numbers only.

Dock Fire Said Not Accidental

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP).—Chief fire warden Norman Aiken said today last Saturday's $161,000 fire at the Columbia Grain wharf on Burrard Inlet was not accidental.

Fire wardens here, still probing the cause of the blaze, were considering possibilities ranging from youngsters tossing a lighted match into the track shed where the fire started, to sabotage.

The investigation was expected to continue for some time.

TEETH THIEF SOUGHT

MONTREAL (CP). — Montreal police are trying to put the bite on a burglar before he puts the bite on someone else. A dental supply company manager told police that someone broke into his building and stole an undisclosed number of false teeth.

Start of Road Work Depends On Weather, Ottawa's Speed

Start on construction of the Patricia Bay highway this year depends on weather conditions and the signing of an agreement between Federal and Provincial Government officials.

A public works department spokesman said yesterday that Federal authorities had been queried in Ottawa in regard to the agreement and that quick action had been promised.

Ottawa officials stated last month that the agreement would be completed during the first week of July. The agreement must be signed before tenders can be called to reconstruct the highway from Victoria to Patricia Bay.

TEEN-AGERS DANCE

Teen-agers will be able to dance on the green at Beacon Hill Park tonight at 7 30, parks department officials stated yesterday.

Another program of outdoor movies, sponsored by the Victoria Film Council, is scheduled to begin at dark in Beacon Hill Park.

Parks officials stated a start has been made on construction of a garage at the Beacon Hill Park nursery which is to house parks department vehicles and equipment.

MEET ON ARENA

An "important meeting" of the Arena committee will be held on Monday morning, Alderman Frank Mulliner, committee chairman, said yesterday.

He said his committee was "impatient" at the prolonged delay on the part of consulting engineer C. T. Hamilton to make repairs to the roof to seal up leaks.

Alderman Mulliner said the Monday meeting of his committee would deal with this question.

He said it was entirely up to Mr. Hamilton to put the roof in shape.

"He must give us a roof which is free of leaks and the necessary repair work has got to be done this Summer," declared Alderman Mulliner.

STOCKPILE PLASMA

First step in the stockpiling of plasma for use in any wartime emergency will be taken by the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service next week.

A mobile clinic will visit H.M.C.S. Naden Tuesday and Wednesday. Officials hope for at least 600 donations.

Large supplies of plasma left over from the World War have been used up, officials say, and only a small start has been made on production of a new supply.

Processing of plasma takes two months. One pint of plasma can be made from three pints of whole blood.

"Communistic"

Protests Hospital Plan, Fails to Pay; Man Fined

Thomas J. Dunstan, 222 Mary Street, the elderly man who recently raised strong objections in city police court to the hospital insurance plan, was found guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall yesterday on a charge of failing to pay his premiums.

He was fined $5 plus the amount of his arrears, $16.50, or in default of payment, "distress." This means that if the fine isn't paid the defendant's goods can be seized and sold.

"I see by the probation officer's report you are more able to pay than a lot of people," stated Magistrate Hall.

Replied Mr. Dunstan: "It isn't that at all, Your Honor. I just don't believe in encouraging Communism."

As the magistrate left the court, Mr. Dunstan continued to tell court officials, spectators and reporters about his ideas on the whole issue. A block away from the police station he still was telling the probation officer, Douglas Davidson, about the case.

SUPPLYING

Pleading guilty to a charge of supplying an intoxicant to an Indian, Frank Sarka, address unknown, was remanded to this morning for sentence.

Magistrate Hall imposed a $50 fine on Thomas Armstrong, 3403 Bethune Avenue, who pleaded guilty to a charge of consuming liquor in a public place. Alternative to payment was one month in jail.

Lee Chan, 642 Yates Street, was fined $5 when found guilty on a charge of failing to pay his hospital insurance.

Pleading not guilty to a careless driving charge, Richard D. Thiessen, Phipps Road, Langford, was remanded to this morning for trial.

SAANICH COURT

At a special sitting of Saanich police court, Hilburn Bradley, Sidney, was charged with dangerous driving as a result of an accident on Shelbourne Street early Tuesday morning.

Hilburn did not appear, but was represented by James J. Proudfoot who was granted his request for a remand to today. No plea was taken.

Less Infection In Past Year

Venereal disease infection in British Columbia dropped slightly in 1949, the Provincial Department of Health and Welfare reported yesterday.

"The greatest and most gratifying improvement has been shown in relation to syphilis, early infections having shown a decline of more than 50 per cent in 1646 over 1948," it was stated. "The figures for gonorrhoea have remained fairly steady."

It was stated that a source of the latter disease which was proving difficult to eradicate existed in Vancouver.

Church Leaders Attend Luncheon

—Colonist Photo.

Shown above as they attended luncheon during yesterday's celebrations of centenary of founding of Sisters of St. Ann are Most Rev. J. Charbonneau, Bishop of Victoria James M. Hill and Most Rev. A. Jordan, Vicar Apostolic of Prince Rupert. They were among 30 clergymen who earlier took part in special Pontifical High Mass at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Order Celebrates Centenary

Nearly 1,000 of Victoria's Catholics Attend Mass for Sisters of St. Ann

Nearly 1,000 of Victoria's Catholics filled St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday morning to honor the 100-year-old Congregation of the Sisters of St. Ann.

Pontifical High Mass, celebrating the order's centenary, was sung by Most Rev. James Hill, Bishop of Victoria. The procession of 30 members of the clergy included Archbishop J. Charbonneau, Most Rev. Anthony Jordan, Vicar Apostolic of Prince Rupert, the Very Rev. J. R. Birch, Provincial Superior of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, and representatives of most missions in the area.

The Mass was attended by 200 Sisters of St. Ann. About 100 of them came from missions throughout the province to take part in the annual eight-day retreat at St. Ann's Academy, the provincial motherhouse. Others came from the Academy's staff and from Mount St. Mary's, and St. Joseph's Hospital.

A choir of Sisters of St. Ann took part in the ceremony, singing the traditional Gregorian chant.

The day-long celebration included a banquet for the clergy, a musical program and an alumnae reunion tea. The tea was attended by 200 alumnae from scattered parts of the Pacific Northwest.

Messages of congratulation were received from members of the hierarchy and clergy of the province, the Alumnae Association, the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Women's League.

Check of Records Delays Hearing on Theft Charge

The preliminary hearing on a charge of theft of $5,345 against Peggy Fraser, 1177 Esquimalt Road, was adjourned shortly after it began, yesterday so certain bank records in connection with the case could be checked.

The hearing will proceed again August 3.

First witness called by City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison was S. D. Markham, manager of the Bank of Toronto, Douglas Street branch, who said his bank had the account of Lyle's Agency, Ltd. He submitted 14 statements covering the period between January, 1948, and February, 1946.

Lawyer J. Ronald Grant told the court of a conference he had with the accused and Mrs. Martum Viola Armstrong, the complainant in the case. A discussion took place, he stated, relating to cash, sale slips and deposits. After about one hour, he continued, the defendant admitted feeling responsible for certain mistakes. Mr. Grant submitted a document dealing with the discussion.

James J. Proudfoot, defence counsel, objected to the document, asking "How on earth can that be considered as evidence or an exhibit? It isn't even signed."

On cross-examination by Mr. Proudfoot, Mr. Grant said the defendant had requested an audit of the books. When defence counsel suggested the purpose of the interview was to total the mistakes and make arrangements for the defendant to pay Mrs. Armstrong back, the witness stated the interview was held to determine the responsibility for the mistakes. Mr. Proudfoot then read, from the document a part which said Mrs. Fraser agreed to pay $50 a month until the amount was all paid.

NOT DECIDED

On question by Mr. Proudfoot, Mr. Grant said the amount of the discrepancy never was decided upon at the interview.

Mrs. Armstrong told the court accused had been employed by her as a routine office clerk at Lyle's Agency, Ltd., 1709 Pandora Avenue. Mrs. Armstrong added she also was the owner of Lyle's Ladies' Wear Store, 1441 Douglas Street, and La-Barr's Ladies' Wear, 1732 Fort Street. One of Mrs. Fraser's duties, she explained, was depositing money.

The hearing was adjourned when Mr. Harrison asked the witness about bank deposits. Mr. Proudfoot agreed with the prosecutor that they should be checked before the case proceeded.

Showboat Due With Dancers

The showboat Ss. Twanoh will arrive in Victoria August 17 with a boatload of Western dancers aboard.

The 26 Spokane and Seattle square-dance enthusiasts will stage an exhibition in Beacon Hill Park, sponsored by the Parks Board and the Y.M.C.A. They will wear colorful cowboy costumes and will provide their own authentic Western music.

In the party will be Chal Snyder, president of the Oklahoma State Square-Dancing Association. The Twanoh is skippered by Arthur Church on its tour of Pacific Northwest cities. Tour manager is Thad Byrne.

Run-Down Building

Ponder Demolition Plan For City's Duck Property

A plan is being considered at City Hall which would see demolished the city-owned Duck property at the corner of Johnson and Broad Streets.

Acting Mayor Harold Diggon said yesterday he did not think it advisable for the city to perpetuate the building in its present run-down state. He said the property on which the building stands is valuable and could be used in many ways.

The acting mayor was critical of suggestions that the building could be operated by the city as an apartment block or renovated and rented out as store space.

MAY BE IMPOSSIBLE

He said the Duck property was in such condition that it may prove impossible to renovate it and bring it up to first-class standards.

Council has already asked that a study be made of a proposal that the city erect a building at the south-east corner of Cook and Pembroke Streets to house the health and welfare departments. The welfare department is now housed in the Duck property.

An alternative study has been ordered on the Duck property to determine costs of temporary renovations to permit the location of both the health and welfare departments under one roof at least for the Winter months.

Fingerprinting Neglected by Law and Business

SOMETIMES a good idea comes wrapped in an unwelcome association, and when that happens it is like a seed that falls on stony ground. In this category, perhaps, is the current suggestion that in connection with civilian defence measures every citizen be fingerprinted in this community, and so presumably in others. The argument advanced is that in the event of a disaster, such as atomic bomb attack, this identification could prove invaluable. It is a pity that fingerprinting as a means of human identification should always come to the fore through unwelcome channels. Its long record in police identification, and now the "disaster" angle, may only serve to prejudice the public against what in many ways would be a very good thing.

Since it has been firmly established that no two sets of human fingerprints are alike, and that the record is a positive identification once taken and filed, it is a pity that it has been left chiefly to hospitals, criminal identification and the like to make any use of this fact. If Canadian banks had required fingerprints from every depositor; life insurance companies the same from contract-holders, the State Department at Ottawa impressed them on Canadian passports, and the law demanded similar proof before the probation of filed wills, for example, there would today be a wide body of civil precedent for fingerprinting all citizens in the nation.

The rub now is both social and political. While no honest person really can object to placing his identity on file, no dishonest individual will wish to do so. Moreover, the concurrent association of a nation-wide police and compulsory fingerprinting would not sit too well with the public in a democracy, no matter what the urgency of the occasion. Before any Government at Ottawa could act upon such a suggestion it would be necessary for it to be requested to do so by the people themselves. In other words, a plebiscite would probably be required asking for the innovation of the plan

Hysterical Buying Accelerates Inflation

REACTION in Victoria this week to price increases on automobile tires is another illustration of the force of irrational habit at the appearance of any threat—in this instance a purely imaginary one—of commodity shortage. The moment the increase in the manufacturers' price was announced many motor vehicle owners and apparently retailers as well jumped to the conclusion that rationing was on the way in. Their reaction to this bogey took the habitual form of a rush to buy up tires far beyond current needs, with the result that there now is a very real, if temporary, shortage.

The creation of artificial shortages of this kind hurts everyone. Already there is evidence in the United States and to a lesser degree in Canada that hoarders and exploiters are buying up things that were in short supply during the war—cars, car parts, soap, sugar, coffee, nylons—at a rate that is seriously disturbing the markets, and usually any such disturbance is not slow to manifest itself in inflated prices. Unfortunately, too, the reaction is quicker than it was nine or ten years ago, when people had no experience of the real shortages that were to follow.

The facts at present show that virtually all commodities are in ample supply and will remain so unless the selfish forces of hysterical buying and calculated exploitation create a pinch. So far as availability of goods is concerned now and in the foreseeable future, there is no reason for anyone to buy beyond current requirements. A wild spree of buying, however, could bring on the very conditions which hoarders fear; first a real shortage, then controls. Experience has shown that controls once imposed are difficult to remove

Improve the Market if Need Be, Not Destroy It

IT would be interesting to know what caused the public market to be picked out as a victim in a search for more car parking space. The market may not match the hanging baskets in aesthetic beauty, but a renaissance of this sort seems too improbable to account for any proposal to abolish it. The suspicion grows that aldermen are still bent on securing a space for their own cars handy to the City Hall, now that free parking for them has been dropped like the hot potato it was.

What if the public market is not the last word in modern mercantile convenience. As to that, who is to blame? Aldermen have taken a long time to discover that its amenities are not all that they might be. It should not have required a parking shortage to bring this to their attention. Let the issues be kept separate. If the public market needs revision so that it may serve its public clientele better, very well; let the council go ahead with plans for its improvement. But keep the parking problem out of it.

Over the years the public market has served a useful purpose, and there has been no suggestion—until now—that it should be done away with. Alderman Diggon can assure himself quickly as to its value by studying the evidence of the other cities he cites. If the present building is not the credit to this city that he would like, why then the thing to do is to remedy the situation, not destroy a public market which is needed.

Letters and Excerpts

Letters to the editor on any topic of genuine interest are welcome if they are brief, accurate and fair. No letter will be inserted, in whole or in part, except over the proper signature and address of the writer. Unsolicited correspondence cannot be returned.

PROFITEERING

Sir,—The split between Russian Communism and the free world having been brought into the open, many Canadians would like to see some form of peaceful agreement that may help to quell the spread of that aggressive philosophy.

The Russians, unfortunately, are themselves adept at suggesting agreements which they know in advance cannot be accepted. They are not, as they try to appear to be, "shrewd bargainers" trying to get the best possible deal. Their objective is simply to make impossible any agreement whatsoever, with the deliberate aim of encouraging Communistic propaganda and agitation.

Russia's aims are most ably assisted by greedy profiteers who take every advantage of national stress and anxiety to raise prices of the essential things of life, especially food, without full justification. Further co-operation is provided by some selfish workers, who are developing a chronic habit of threatening strike action upon the slightest provocation.

Two obvious and beneficial solutions for defeating the influence of Communism throughout the world would be the greater practice of Christian teachings in our daily lives, and also to make available the earth's plentiful supply of wholesome food to all peoples at fair prices, which they could afford to pay. There would be no better place to commence these sound remedies than here at home in Canada.

DENIS H. BEBLEY

2197 Lafayette Street, Victoria, B.C.

THE PUBLIC MARKET

Sir,—As a native-born citizen of Victoria, may I protest against any abolishment of the Public Market?

Mr. Diggon, while no doubt a valuable asset to our City Council and a prominent businessman for many years, seems to overlook the fact that a large percentage of the stall-holders of our market are augmenting small pensions by selling garden and farm produce, and have done so for many years, through fair weather and foul, and would feel the loss to a great extent.

Also, perhaps, our public health and sanitary inspector would do well to don a stronger pair of eye-glasses while examining the back premises of some of our larger purveyors of foodstuffs. The odd fly may alight occasionally on some of the goods at the market, but can the P.H. and S. Inspector in all fairness vouch that they don't do the same in packing establishments, warehouses and behind the scenes in our larger stores before said goods are carefully wrapped in cellophane?

Personally, I like to see what I am buying. I wonder if the alderman has ever bought a package of bacon, for instance, to find on opening that, while both outside slices are all they should be, the inside slices didn't exactly arrive on this vale of tears yesterday? I have, much to my chagrin and sorrow

Be clean, but also be fair. Why always hit at the little man.

EDITH C. ESTRIDGE

Churchill Hotel, Victoria, B.C.

"YOUNG" ZOO

Sir,—We have been told that a young animal zoo could be installed in Victoria for $3,000.

With another war hanging over our heads, rising food prices and the likelihood of increased taxation for defence, it would be interesting to know where the money for the proper care and feeding of these animals is to come from.

Also, as young animals have a tendency to grow older, it would be very interesting to know what is to become of them when they are no longer young. They could not fend for themselves, and if other zoos do not need them, do we pension them off or kill them?

Man's punishment for man is imprisonment behind bars. What sin have these young creatures committed that they should be deprived of their freedom?

A Noiseless Patient Spider

A noiseless patient spider
I mark'd where, on a little promontory, it stood isolated,
Mark'd how, to explore the vacant vast surrounding,
It launch'd forth filament, filament, filament, out of itself;
Ever unreeling them—ever tirelessly speeding them.
And you, O my soul, where you stand,
Surrounded, surrounded, in measureless oceans of space,
Ceaselessly musing, venturing, throwing— seeking the spheres to connect them,
Till the bridge you will need, be form'd—till the ductile anchor hold,
Till the gossamer thread you fling, catch somewhere, O my soul.

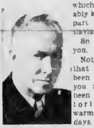
Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

YOU have heard, of course, of Louis the Fourteenth. He was a Frenchman and he had a lot of soldiers. Some of them came from Croatia, which you probably know now as part of Yugoslavia.



So what, says you.

Nothing, except that if it hadn't been for them you might have been more comfortable these warm Victoria days. That is, if you are a male. When I suggested this to one of my colleagues he looked at me as though the Korean war had affected my reason.

Soldiers? What had they to do with his discomfort?

For he was in discomfort. Every now and then he inserted a despairing finger inside his collar or tugged to loosen his necktie.

He was hot. And the decree that compels the male to choke himself to near suffocation had him in its dire grip. Obviously he was keeping up appearances much against his will, and if it hadn't been for his necktie he would have—well, thrown open his throat to whatever breeze might happen along

But where does the Croat come in?

* * *

If I'm to believe what I read, it seems he's the original villain of the piece. Innocent himself, perhaps, but nevertheless an accessory before the fact.

I had been feeling unduly confined myself around the neck. So much so that I wondered, irritably, who the deuce was it who invented that boa-constrictor we call a necktie.

I couldn't rest till I found out

And this is the story. Louis hired some Croatian mercenaries. They wore scarfs made of linen or muslin, with lace edges. It was the lace that did it, no doubt. The bluebloods of France took a fancy to these cravates, as they called them (Cravete being French for Croat), and in a twinkling they became all the rage. The fashion spread. All over Europe, and eventually North America, men—silly men—vied with one another in devising new styles of neckerchiefs to hide their Adam's apple. Stiff or soft, they all meant the same thing—suffocation!

Imagine, then.

Just because there was a fellow called Louis the Fourteenth and he had some Croatian mercenaries—you and I are condemned to wilt in misery when the sun shines.

Who said history was a joke?

For, of course, the modern cravat is a necktie.

* * *

It is more than that. It is a halter and we put it round our own necks! For convention's sake.

There in its deceit is the secret that absolves the Croatian soldier. He didn't ask us to follow his example, and we wouldn't if we had any sense.

Or more courage.

It takes a collar as well as a necktie to choke you in midsummer, but if there were no modern cravats the collar button would be undone—because it wouldn't be respectable otherwise—and your apple would be free to bob, thankfully and untrammelled.

And yet we bold buccaneers of the male sex affect to scorn the fetish of feminine fashions. Secretly, as you know, we eye milady's neckline with envy — wishing desperately these bright Victoria days that we too could air-condition our jugular veins.

Isn't there a he-man around anywhere?

Someone who will lay down the law and affirm that henceforth the sweltering male is free to go tieless if he wants to—aye, even at a cocktail party or a Rotary luncheon. And no social ostracism to follow.

Why, such a man could be elected to Parliament, did he know it. As the emancipator who liberated males from the slavery of self-inflicted strangling

The Kremlin Buys Time

By RAYMOND MOLEY

NEW YORK—The almost inscrutable ways of the Kremlin should be sufficient warning that no one should build with confidence on anything that Stalin or any other Communist leader says. What they say is not necessarily based upon anything that they intend to do or any truth that may to others be self-evident. No stone should be left unturned to prepare the United States for any eventuality, even total war. Meanwhile despite the bad news of the Korean War, it may be well to keep our feet on the ground.

The general situation, as far as a possible war with Russia is concerned, remains as it was before Korean hostilities began. The Soviet has more to gain from a jittery peace than from general war. Its purpose is to feint and withdraw, keep us off balance, disturb our economy, frustrate our military command and consolidate feeling against us among the satellites. The Korean adventure has been of great advantage to those Soviet purposes. It can be advertised in Asia as an example of American lack of preparedness. Moreover, the military people in the Kremlin are too shrewd to believe that our reverses in the fighting so far are any indication of their superiority or of our inferiority.

They know that they had plenty of time to prepare and that, while we had the time, we didn't use it. And they know, too, that while they have given the North Koreans fine new equipment, we are compelled for the moment to use outdated and inferior equipment. They know, in short, that we have more and better stuff to fight with.

* * *

Hence, as in the Berlin crisis, the men in the Kremlin enjoy the sense of having caused us pain, apprehension and humiliation while they buy time. The Russian pattern is ultimately to feel they have caused enough trouble for the moment and soften their attitude.

There is a definite indication of this in Stalin's reported answer to Nehru. He speaks of the Korean "problem" rather lightly. Also, he speaks in terms of working through the United Nations Security Council. Of course, he introduces his bargaining point — the admission of Communist China. This is a method of trading, not of raising a more serious crisis. It may well be a way of saying that he prefers a cold war rather than a hot one.

It must be anticipated, however, that some other "problem" will arise, perhaps in Iran or elsewhere. That, too, would be played for what it would gain without war.

The lesson the United States Government should learn is clear. We must increase at once our preparation for little wars and for a big war at the same time. We must do better than we have done so far.

But over all, and barring accidents, the general situation is unchanged. We have had a forcible reminder of its seriousness, and that will be good for the country as a whole. But the Stalin exchange with Nehru offers a slight though inconclusive sign that Armageddon is not as near as some of us thought it was when South Korea was invaded.

Mockery of Free Enterprise

(From The Globe and Mail, Toronto)

RECENTLY a Detroit baker was haled into court and charged with unfair competition. There was no complaint against the quality of his bread. His "crime" was selling loaves four ounces heavier than his competitors were selling for the same price. The court ordered him to reduce his loaves to the standard size. By that order his competitors gained and the public lost

Just where this prosecution squares with the free enterprise system is hard to see. Wherein does the baker's method differ from the motor car manufacturer who advertises that his car contains more value for the money than any other car? The Detroit case was merely the old baker's dozen principle which long was a catch phrase applying to various trades. If one producer, by efficient methods, could supply more bread or buns than another for the same amount of money, he was completely free to do so. The law looked upon him benevolently.

That was before combines and other manipulations came in to standardize production and price. An Alberta baker not long ago found the baker's dozen principle was out-dated. He testified in court he had been warned that other organized bakers would not let him "go on forever" selling his bread below the standard price. While these cases concern bread, the technique is increasingly permeating our modern life. Free enterprise is becoming more riddled with controls imposed by itself.

Anti-combine and anti-trust laws have been aimed against restraint of trade, conspiracy to raise prices or other manipulations against the public's interest. How effective they are is open to question. Whatever the case, the fact is that in some trades, businesses and professions, a sort of puppet rule has grown up, often aided and abetted by law, to dictate certain controls over production of goods and services

Free enterprise thus gives way to regimentation, with Governments deputizing their right to govern. While one law essays to curb price fixing, another law punishes a baker who unfixes prices.

To which the sweet young voice replied: "Well, I didn't miss it by much, did I?"

TEA

A storm arose at the annual conference at Brighton of the National Association of Theatrical and Cinema Employees when Mr. George Beach, of London, spoke of the general secretary, Mr. Tom O'Brien, M.P., entertaining non-unionists to tea at the House of Commons. Mr. O'Brien with some heat shouted: "Mind your own business; if I took a girl friend out, or a boy friend, it is my business."

It was then disclosed that Mr. O'Brien invited several young women, employed as secretaries at the M.-G.-M. studios at Elstree, to the terrace of the House of Commons, for tea, along with a member of the executive. "After a very pleasant chat, all of them but one joined the union."

Observation Car By G.B.

PROSPERITY is a condition that businessmen create. Then Ottawa Cabinet ministers step in and take credit for it . . . Hitler and Goebbels swayed the masses because they knew if a lie was big enough, and repeated sufficiently, everybody would eventually believe it. That principle reminds me of the Victorian who purchased an ungainly pup from a farmer with the recommendation that it was merely a mixture of several breeds. Every time the man took the animal for a walk somebody was sure to ask about the breed and he invariably replied it was a purebred Alsatian he had been fortunate in picking up cheap. By the time the dog was six months old it could easily be seen its ancestry would be almost impossible to trace. One night the owner remarked to his wife, "I bought that mutt for an Alsatian from that so-and-so farmer, and look what I got. I am going to drive out next Sunday and tell him a few things." . . . Money may be the root of all evil, but on the other hand nice things can grow out of it . . . Now that an amendment to streets traffic regulation by-law gives pedestrians the right of way within crosswalks, it will be interesting to note the reactions of motorists. Years of sloppy driving and ignoring the presence of pedestrians cannot be eliminated overnight. . . . A road from Alberni to Tofino would promote logging, mining and commercial fishing, give West Coast residents an outlet by land which they have sought for many years, result in the opening of new resorts, and prove a great tourist attraction. If the Provincial Government feels the cost would be too great, it could be made a toll road. . . According to a news item from London, England, a professional wine taster aroused the ire of a judge when called upon to give expert testimony as to the quality of a shipment of wine. The taster admitted a sample handed to him was port wine, but declined to say anything more because it was handed to him in a claret glass . . . Whoever named a type of R C A F training plane "Chipmunk" missed the boat. A chipmunk is another name for a ground squirrel.

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

THE law requiring all engined and sailing craft to carry lights after dark is a Federal law tied in to international agreement. But all over Canada, in practically every Summer resort, the law is more observed in the breach than the observance. Outboard motor skiffs hum lightless over the waters in the night, and many launches and speedboats of larger and more dangerous weight are guilty of this offence. Every year there are accidents and fatalities due to this cheerful defiance of the law

When a battery runs down, it is not always easy, in resorts distant from towns, to get a fresh one. Once the members of the family use the boat without lights, it easily becomes a habit

So efficient and handy have the outboards become that the rowboat and canoe are falling into disuse around Summer homes. But literally, there is no safer craft in which to make the usual short trips by night around Summer resorts than a rowboat or a canoe because in them, unlike in outboard and other engined boats, you can hear the approach of other craft whether they are lighted or not. And you can easily move out of their way

The Federal authorities are stiffening up the regulations regarding the licensing of small craft, and one effect of this will be that small boat owners will be reading the regulations more attentively than in the past. But there is need of a committee of cottagers in most Summer resorts where there is no township authority, with power, even locally supported, to attend to the matter of lights on boats.

In the meantime, if it is a short journey you have to make over water in the night, use the rowboat or canoe. If you are hit, you will at least know what hit you

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO—Arrangements are being made by the Canadian National Railways for the erection of a hotel in Vancouver at an estimated cost of $3,500,000, close to the site of the Canadian Pacific Hotel.

50 YEARS AGO—On account of the increase in the price of logs, the local lumber dealers have raised the price of first-grade lumber to $9 a thousand

85 YEARS AGO — Rumors have been current since the arrival of the mail steamer that official notice has been received in the city that the Home Government has decided upon uniting the two colonies.

The Daily Colonist Victoria, B.C., Thurs., July 27, 1950

Baruch Urges U.S. Adopt Total Mobilization Plan

WASHINGTON, July 26 (INS)—Bernard Baruch today assailed the nation's defence effort as inadequate and called for total mobilization "now" with a general freeze on prices, wages and rents.

The Great War mobilizer told Congress America will have to come to an all-out program "before the peace is won" and "it will never be easier to do than now."

Baruch told the committee considering President Truman's proposal for allocation authority, seizure powers and credit controls, that "the bill does not convey the fact (of the gravity of the situation) to the American people, nor do five billion in taxes, nor calling up only 20,000 selectees."

Baruch's total mobilization plan drew immediate opposition from many Senators who argued that the country will not accept an all-out effort short of a total war. Senator Robertson (D., Va.) said.

"I don't believe the American people are sufficiently sold on this emergency to make your plan a success."

The elder statesman replied: "You have given the Government the right to take every man and woman under 45. What's so sacred about property?"

Senator Taft (R., Ohio) said he "wholly disagrees" with Baruch, who, he asserted, is "for all-out dictatorship."

However, Senator Johnson (D., Colo.) said: "I'm inclined to go along with Mr. Baruch."

Baruch declared that Mr. Truman's tax program should provide for ten billion dollars in new revenue rather than five and should contain an excess profits levy.

He asserted that prices should be rolled back to June 25, when the Communists invaded South Korea, and then frozen at that level with inequities to be discussed later. He warned:

"How much more inflation can our society stand? The rise in prices which has already occurred since the Korean outbreak will be used to justify wage increases this Fall and Winter.

"Higher wages will lead to still higher prices. The right time to stop inflation is always—now!"

Eden Warns Commons

Asia War Arouses Fear Of Reds in U.K. Colonies

LONDON, July 27 (CP)—War in Korea has awakened new anxieties about Communist influences in Britain's colonial territories.

A debate in the House of Commons showed that many members are perturbed. The cold war can look a lot less black and white in Nigeria or Kenya than in London or Washington.

Anthony Eden, deputy Conservative leader, said anti-British propaganda filled columns in the native press of Africa. Accounts of happenings in Korea were unbelievable.

The London Daily Worker, a Communist newspaper, wasn't in the same league with some African newspapers for misrepresentation, he said.

Unless the Government did something about it, he added, the danger might become great in a year or so.

QUININE WITH MEAL

Another Conservative member, L. D Gammans, put Parliament in a little better humor with a description of the spectacular advances of modern medicine in the colonies.

Mr. Gammans, once a colonial civil servant, said he can remember the days when the servant who brought breakfast put a quinine bottle beside it. "Those days," he said, "have gone forever."

Mr. Gammans reminded the House how important some colonies are to Britain. Malaya, for instance, earned more dollars than all the United Kingdom's exports to the United States. "If we lose Malaya, we shall have to go without our breakfasts in this country."

CHANGE COMING

John Dugdale, Minister of State for Colonial Affairs, said:

"The whole colonial empire is engaged in a major economic revolution.

"It is slow, perhaps—it is very slow sometimes—but it is profound. In 30 to 40 years, or even before that, such countries as Uganda, Malaya and Nigeria may be as highly industrialized as Australia is today."

A Conservative member who did not speak in the debate, C. J. M. Alport, later aired his opinions on Britain's colonial policy through a special article in The Daily Mail. Under the heading "Guilty Men and Women," Alport said colonial countries have become restive under the "weak and reluctant" policies pursued by the Socialists in five years of office.

Oddities

PORTLAND, Ore., July 26 (INS).—Fires can't compare with small boys when it comes to wear and tear on a fire engine.

A 1916 model fire engine was put in Wilshire Park in Portland last May as "play equipment" when the fire department was through with it. Tonight it is ready for the junk heap, and firemen called it a "wreck."

In a little over two months the children:

Stripped the spark plugs and generator out of the engine; let the air out of the tires; smashed the headlights and took away the reflectors; tore up the floorboards; knocked off or dented everything that didn't come off easily.

As the pumper was turned back to the fire department for junking, one fireman said:

"There's nothing more they could do to it except burn it up. It's a wonder they didn't try that."

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 26 (AP).—Quan Shuch Hang wanted to sue a taxicab company after he was injured, he said, by one of its cabs in 1948. The case never developed. So yesterday Quan sued his lawyer for $23,653.

Quan declared the lawyer's failure to file suit within one year cost him the chance to recover damages—and he'd like to collect.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26 (INS).—Twelve-year-old Milton Tipton jumped seven feet over an open space between two San Francisco buildings today—but he couldn't make it back.

Milton climbed up the fire escape to the roof of the Metro Theatre to retrieve his ball from the adjacent building. He leaped over the gap—with a fifty-foot drop yawning beneath him.

Firemen were called to help him back.

Shaw, 94, Marks Event By New Play

AYOT, St. Lawrence, Hertfordshire, England, July 26 (CP)—George Bernard Shaw, who says he has decayed into a dodderer, had a birthday today—his 94th. He said no one was to remind him of it.

The old man did celebrate, though, by announcing that he has written a new play called "The Lady She Would Not."

Shaw passed the day quietly in his home here.

To a reporter he said:

"I thought something might be expected of me to mark my birthday, as usual, so I've written another play.

"I've labeled it 'A Little Comedy,' and called it 'The Lady She Would Not.' It is in five scenes. I wrote the whole thing in seven days."

To the United States chapter of the Shaw Society, in a letter to W. D. Chase, of Flint, Mich., the organizer:

"The utmost I can claim for myself in my best days is that I was one of the 100 best playwrights in the world, which is hardly a supreme distinction."

Back in the days when he was less diffident, Shaw called himself "The Dramatic Emperor of Europe."

Shaw's secretary, Miss Blanche Patch, who has been with him 30 years, cast the old boy in a new light, too. She told reporters:

"G.B.S. is really modest. He does not think he is a superman. He only regards himself as cleverer than most of us—which, of course, he is.

"His wit and his wits remain as lively as ever. He is frail but cheerful. He doesn't write as fast as he once did or answer letters as quickly, and he no longer conducts his visitors to the front gate as he always used to do.

"But he still keeps on working between breakfast and lunch.

Civilian Defence Mayor's Topic

EDMONTON, July 26 (CP).—Civilian defence will be one item on the agenda of the annual conference of Canadian mayors and municipalities, opening in Saskatoon August 21.

Mayor Sidney Parsons of Edmonton said today the conference will be addressed by Major-Gen. F. F. Worthington, head of Canada's Civil Defence Organization.

Fog Prevents Route Change

PORTLAND, Ore., July 26 (INS).—High fog prevented a landing in Portland today by the first Canadian Pacific airplane scheduled to use the city's airport as a take-off point for flights to Honolulu, Fiji and Australia.

The first plane scheduled to land at Portland flew on to San Francisco, which has been the take-off point since the service began a year ago.

The flights start at Vancouver, B.C., and the planes take an hour and a half to reach Portland.

Massed Thousands Honor Statesman

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP).—Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King made his last journey today from Parliament Hill.

Through streets bathed in a brilliant sun and lined with 50,000 citizens, the body of the 75-year-old former prime minister who died Saturday, was borne in a state funeral procession. Down from "the hill" for the last time, it came in a gleaming mahogany casket carried in a black hearse.

Four mounted policemen in scarlet led the hearse, flanked by 32 honorary pallbearers headed by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, who succeeded Mr King in office in 1948.

Behind a tri-service guard of honor came a sombre black line of hundreds of official mourners—representatives of Parliament, the diplomatic corps, the clergy, the judiciary and ordinary citizens who knew or worked with the man who led the nation for more than 21 years.

In slow time to the dirges of R.C.M.P. and Air Force bands, the procession made its way along roped-off streets lined with servicemen and packed with massed thousands.

It went to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church where Mr. King himself had worshipped for almost half a century.

Inside the old church, relatives, close friends, Federal and Provincial Government leaders and the representatives of 33 countries joined in tribute to his memory.

Then once again the cortege moved at the slow march through the lines of silent citizens to Union Station, where the body was put aboard a special train, bearing two white flags at its engine-head, for Toronto, where interment will take place in Mount Pleasant Cemetery tomorrow.

FILED PAST BIER

Many of the vast throng had filed slowly past the bier of Mr King while his body lay in state in Canada's Hall of Fame yesterday and earlier today.

Thousands, young and old, lined the streets four and five deep. Others massed at every vantage point.

A few minutes before the cortege reached the church, the Governor-General and Lady Alexander slipped quietly into their seats directly in front of the pulpit. So did Mrs. H. M Lay, of Barrie, Ont., sister and oldest surviving relative of Mr. King. She was accompanied by wives of Mr. King's three nephews, who walked in the procession behind the hearse.

The eulogy to Mr. King was given by Rev. A. Ian Burnett, minister of St. Andrew's, and a close friend and confidant of the veteran statesman.

"GREATEST CANADIAN"

Mr. Burnett described Mr. King as "the greatest Canadian of our time" and said he had lived greatly "because he knew that life here is only a preparation for life hereafter."

The minister asked Canadians to "let the final lasting tribute of all Canada to this, her great son, be to follow faithfully the Christian way of life which was his strength and inspiration to the last."

The congregation sang the hymn, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." The first Scripture lesson was read by Rev. Prof. F. Scott Mackenzie, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Then the congregation sang "My Own Dear Land," one of Mr. King's favorite hymns. He had specially requested that it be sung at his funeral.

The service was broadcast over both the English and French networks of the C.B.C. and most of the country's private stations.

The procession reformed on Wellington Street outside the church and moved off toward Union Station, circling Confederation Square, where Canada's National War Memorial stands.

The inside of the coach carrying the body to Toronto was draped in black velvet. About half the coach was taken up with flowers

Judge to Act In Regina As Mediator

REGINA, July 26 (CP).—Hopes for early settlement of the Regina power workers' four-day-old strike today rested with Mr. Justice S. E. Richards of Winnipeg.

Mr. Justice Richards is expected here tomorrow to begin mediating city-union negotiations.

Today, representatives of the two disputing parties accepted Acting-Premier C. M. Fines' suggestion that the appeal court judge act as mediator so negotiations could be resumed.

Union officials said, however, that conclusion of the strike still must await full settlement of wage disagreements.

Less than four hours after the appointment was announced, a citizen reported seeing a black car speeding from the scene of another alleged sabotage of power lines—the fourth since early Sunday morning.

The short circuit caused a momentary flicker of lights in the city and left the Boggy Creek line without power for several minutes.

A Murder Is Announced

(Chapter XLIII—Continued)

"You are not angry at what I say, Miss Blacklock?" she asked.

"If I were to be angry at all the lies you tell, I should never be out of temper, said Miss Blacklock.

"I will go and say to the Inspector that I make it all up, shall I?" asked Mitzi.

"He knows that already," said Miss Blacklock pleasantly.

Mitzi turned off the taps and as she did so two hands came up behind her and with one swift movement forced it down into the water filled sink.

"Only I know that you're telling the truth for once," said Miss Blacklock viciously.

Mitzi thrashed and struggled, but Miss Blacklock was strong and her handn held the girl's head firmly under.

Then, from somewhere quite close behind her, Dora Bunner's voice rose piteously on the air:

"Oh, Lotty—Lotty—don't do it Lotty."

Miss Blacklock screamed again and again. For there was no one there in the kitchen with her . . .

"Dora, Dora, forgive me. I had to . . I had to . . ."

She rushed distractedly towards the scullery door—and the bulk of Sergeant Fletcher barred her way, just as Miss Marple stepped, flushed, flushed and triumphant, out of the broom cupboard.

"I could always mimic people's voices," said Miss Marple.

"You'll have to come with me, Madam, said Sergeant Fletcher. "I was a witness of your attempt to drown this girl. And there will be other charges. I must warn you Letitia Blacklock . . ."

"Charlotte Blacklock," corrected Miss Marple. "That's who she is you know. Under that choker of pearls she always wears you'll find the scar of the operation."

"Operation?"

"Operation for goitre."

Miss Blacklock, quite calm now looked at Miss Marple.

"So you know all about it?" she said.

"Yes, I've known for some time."

Charlotte Blacklock sat down by the table and began to cry.

"You shouldn't have done that," she said. "Not made Dora's voice come. I loved Dora. I really loved Dora."

Inspector Craddock and the others had crowded in the doorway.

Constable Edwards, who added a knowledge of first aid and artificial respiration to his other accomplishments, was busy with Mitzi. As soon as Mitzi could speak, she was lyrical with self praise.

"I do that good, do I not? I am clever! And I am brave! Oh, I am brave! Very very nearly I was murdered, too. But I am so brave I risk everything."

With a rush Miss Hinchliffe thrust aside the others and leapt upon the weeping figure of Charlotte Blacklock by the table.

It took all Sergeant Fletcher's strength to hold her off.

"Now then . . ." he said. "Now then . . . No, no Miss Hinchliffe . . ."

Between clenched teeth Miss Hinchliffe was muttering.

"Let me get at her. Just let me get at her. It was she who killed Amy Murgatroyd."

Charlotte Blacklock looked up and sniffed.

"I didn't want to kill her. I didn't want to kill anybody. I had to— But it's Dora I mind about—after Dora was dead, I was all alone—ever since she died—I've been alone—oh, Dora, Dora . . ."

And once again she dropped her head on her hands and wept.

CHAPTER XLIV

Miss Marple sat in the tall armchair. Bunch was on the floor in front of the fire with her arms around her knees.

The Reverend Julian Harmon was leaning forward and was for once looking more like a schoolboy than a man foreshadowing his own maturity. And Inspector Craddock was smoking his pipe and drinking a whisky and soda and was clearly very much off duty. An outer circle was composed of Julia, Patrick, Edmund and Phillipa.

"I think it's your story, Miss Marple," said Craddock.

"Oh no, my dear boy. I only just helped a little, here and there. You were in charge of the whole thing, and conducted it all, and you know so much that I don't."

"Well, tell it together," said Bunch impatiently. "Bits each. Only let Aunt Jane start. When did you first think that the whole thing was a put up job by the Blacklock?"

"Well, my dear Bunch, it's hard to say. Of course, right at the very beginning, it did seem as though the ideal person—or rather the obvious person, I should say — to have arranged the holdup was Miss Blacklock herself. She was the only person who was known to have been in contact with Rudi Scherz, and how much easier to arrange something like that when it's your own house. The central heating, for instance. No fires—because that would have meant light in the room. But the only person who could have arranged not to have a fire was the mistress of the house herself.

"Not that I thought of all that at the time—it just seemed to me that it was a pity it couldn't be as simple as that! Oh no, I was taken in like everyone else. I thought that someone really did want to kill Letitia Blacklock."

"I think I'd like to get clear first on what really happened," said Bunch. "Did the Swiss boy recognise her?"

"Yes. He'd worked in—"

She hesitated and looked at Craddock.

"In Dr. Adolf Koch's clinic in Berne," said Craddock. "Koch was a world famous specialist on operations for goitre. Charlotte Blacklock went there to have her goitre removed and Rudi Scherz was one of the orderlies. When he came to England he recognized in the hotel a lady who had been a patient and on the spur of the moment he spoke to her. I daresay he mightn't have done that if he'd paused to think, because he left the place under a cloud, but that was something after Charlotte had been there, so she wouldn't know anything about it."

Asthma

By DR. J. B. WARREN

AM I ALLERGIC?

While the discovery of insulin to control diabetes and liver and liver extract to control pernicious anemia are prolonging useful lives, the discovery of the causes and treatment of asthma is relieving the distressing symptoms of asthma in the majority of cases. The causes of asthma are (a) allergy to various substances—pollen, dust, furs, feathers, foods, (b) nose and throat defects, and (c) emotional disturbances which interfere with the protective power of the lining of the nose and sinuses.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"RULE OF THUMB"

When the writer was a little girl, she saw her grandmother measure for an eighth of a yard by the length of her middle finger. Perhaps one of our readers recalls a use of the thumb itself which in the same way would dramatize this phrase, "rule of thumb," and its start in haphazard measuring. For that is how it started in olden times.

On June 1, 1909, The London Times Weekly carried the following allusion contrasting "rule of thumb" with more accurate methods, which makes unnecessary any explanation of this metaphor:

"His scientific method he shares with his countrymen, who have long discarded the rule of thumb which we are just discovering to be inadequate in modern conditions."

It is interesting to find that such disparaging reference to guesswork methods goes back at least another two centuries. It turns up in print as early as 1692 in a work called "The Fencing Master," by Sir William Hope:

"What he doth, he doth by rule of thumb, and not by art."

Electors Betrayed, C.C.F.'s Contention

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP)—Canada's Liberal Government was accused today of betraying those who elected it.

Accusers were delegates to the biennial national convention of the C.C.F. who, in a strongly-worded resolution passed without argument, said the Government was guilty of riding to election victory on hollow promises.

Liberals were accused of betraying farmers, workers, the aged and tenants and of governing Canada with legislation "favoring the rich at the expense of the poor."

It was one of a dozen resolutions discussed as 129 delegates from nine provinces here began general sessions. The convention closes Friday, when election of officers is scheduled.

PROPOSE PROGRAM

Another resolution entered by the C.C.F. national executive said "lasting prosperity" is within reach, if the following steps were taken now:

National economic planning and control of major investment, expansion of the publicly-owned sector of economy to reduce "irresponsible" control by private monopolies, a bold program of public development and expansion of international trade.

A nine-point public development program was advocated by the C.C.F., "alarmed at the failure of the Government to maintain full employment during the last year."

This program would include a vast low-rental housing program, public development of a chain of low-cost hostels, construction of a tunnel connecting Prince Edward Island and the Mainland and immediate construction of a railway outlet from the Peace River country to the Pacific Coast.

The C.C.F. also took a stand on the controversial gas pipeline issue.

Delegates resolved that the C.C.F. "strongly press for an all-Canadian route for any pipelines from the Prairies, via British Columbia centres."

On housing, they urged that the Federal Government place all rented housing under controls until "the supply equals the demand."

Delegates voted non-concurrence on a resolution that the party explore the possibility of reforming, rather than abolishing the Senate.

A Montreal delegate, Cyril Durocher, as one of the few favoring this stand. "If he had a democratically elected Senate," he said, "it might serve a very useful purpose."

Andrew Brewin of Toronto, chairman of the resolutions committee, said he thought differently. The Senate was "becoming more and more ridiculous with virtually no Opposition members left."

Other resolutions carried today included a demand that the Federal Government begin an over-all program of natural-resources conservation and that the necessary funds be voted to give "the greatest possible degree of assurance" that there will be no recurrence of disastrous floods in Manitoba and British Columbia.

Closed meetings were held tonight on organization, trade unions and farm affairs.

DANGEROUS GAME

SANDHURST, Berkshire, England (CP).—Small boys infiltrating on to army rifle ranges play a hazardous game called "taking cover"—from live ammunition.

Urge Arms Aid for U.N. Force

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—Military aid for the United Nations forces in South Korea was recommended today by the national council of the C.C.F.

In an emergency resolution presented at the opening of the biennial convention—the first to be held west of the Rockies—the 200 delegates were told:

"The C.C.F. believes that all nations—including Canada—which have pledged support for the action of the Security Council, should participate according to their ability.

"The burden of the military action to halt aggression in Korea should not be left to one nation alone."

The council asked approval of the convention for "complete support of collective security through the United Nations."

A vote on the resolution is expected tomorrow during discussion of the party's international policy.

Reconvening of Parliament was termed "imperative" in the resolution.

"Parliament should be called at the earliest opportunity," because of the international crisis. "Grave decisions should not be taken by the Government without consulting Parliament."

The council recommendation said the Canadian Government should recommend that the United Nations immediately call either a meeting of the military staff committee or a special conference of Government representatives to plan action.

The resolution implied use of Canadian ground troops in Korea, but added that the nations in the United Nations should use their experience in "this crisis to create an international police force."

The recommendation on Korea outlined C.C.F. opposition to admission of Communist China to the U.N. as a condition for peace in Korea. That is a solution that has been offered by Russia.

The council said such a solution would be "unthinkable" and it added:

"Blackmail cannot solve the issue."

Other emergency resolutions presented by the council deal with atomic energy control, the U.N. and war profits.

Some of the resolutions may be found inacceptable by left-wing factions.

British Columbia left-wingers last year at the Provincial convention of the C.C.F. split with the national body on the Atlantic Pact. The National C.C.F. had placed itself solidly behind the agreement.

In an A-bomb resolution, the council asks endorsation by the rank and file of three proposals. They are: International control of atomic energy, establishment of effective sanctions against violations, and the manufacture of atomic bombs be stopped and present stocks destroyed.

The A-bomb resolution adds, however:

"We emphasize again that mere conventions outlawing the use of atomic weapons, without effective control, cannot safeguard the world against the secret development of atomic bombs."

The U.N. resolution asks "constructive action in the international sphere" and demands "that the Canadian Government take positive action."

Finally, the council asks nationalization of the production and sale of armaments and munitions, and re-imposition of the excess profits tax on profits made from production or sale of war supplies.

Parking Space Under Dispute

ALBERNI, July 26.—Representatives of United Motors, Ltd., attended a meeting of the Alberni City Council to protest at the continued use of the parking space in front of the company's property on Victoria Quay by the Alberni Valley Transit Company.

The delegation was advised that while the council was in sympathy with both parties, they did not wish to cause inconvenience to the bus company by choosing any location off the line of the River Road route.

A meeting will be held later with both the interested parties and the council in an effort to reach an amicable settlement.

Officials Sign Harbor Lease

CAMPBELL RIVER, July 26—Commissioners signed the lease which allows village control of Campbell River's harbor, at a meeting here Tuesday night.

The term of the lease is for three years. It is effective as of March 1, 1950.

A contract for the collection and disposal of garbage was awarded to Neil McDonald & Son after two tenders were received by the commissioners. The contract will be effective for one year.

Trades licences were issued to E. Nottingham, for electrical appliance repairs, Norbert Dionne, for cement work, and E. Wakefield, for radio sales and service.

A combined shed and waiting room is being erected at the fishermen's float by the Public Works Department.

Funeral Held For B. Busby

ERRINGTON, July 26—Funeral services for Benjamin Busby, 69, who died suddenly at his home on Grafton Avenue, were conducted by Rev. O. T. Pattison at St. Mary's Anglican Church cemetery on Tuesday. Mountain View Funeral Home, of Parksville, was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Busby had been a resident of Errington since 1918. He was predeceased by his wife in 1947 and is survived by a sister in England.

Well-known as a steam engineer, he had been employed at Straits Lumber Co. at Nanoose, Eureka Sawmills, Nanaimo, and at mills around Port Alberni and other Island points.

Conscience Spurs 50-Cent Payment

SOMEBODY'S guilty conscience has enriched the national coffers by half a dollar.

A letter received yesterday by The Colonist says: "The Collector of Customs and Excise acknowledges receipt of 50 cents, conscience money, received in an envelope marked 'Office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Victoria, B.C.'"

Hot Weather No Problem for Children in Park

Colonist Photo

Most popular spot in Beacon Hill Park these days for younger set is Kiwanis Club wading pool. Shrill shouts of splashing children ring through park daily now hot weather is here. With touch of sadness that they, too, cannot frolic in pool, mothers watch their young ones from sidelines.

Addresses Party Conclave

Retiring National Chairman of C.C.F. Sketches Outline of Future Socialism

By FRED McNEIL.

VANCOUVER, July 26 — Tall, lean Professor Frank R. Scott of McGill University, retiring national chairman of the C.C.F., sketched new horizons of political thought for Canadian Socialists in a carefully prepared speech to the party's 11th national convention today.

Quiet-spoken Professor Scott thought C.C.F.-ers should decide whether the charge that they were "just Liberals in a hurry" was justified.

Much of what he said might have been said by left-wing Liberals, and, as if conscious of this himself, Professor Scott went on to outline the differences.

As planning techniques have developed, he said, the difficulties of wide-spread nationalization of industries have been better appreciated and it is now time for the party to decide how much is practical.

ONLY ONE TOOL.

"Nationalization is only one tool," he said, "and we must learn to use all the tools. Obviously a considerable degree of public ownership . . . is required for Canada, for we suffer particularly from monopolistic ownership."

"But," he continued, "I suggest that for any Socialist today to look upon every proposal for nationalization as the acid test of true Socialism, is to be a little foolish.

"Within capitalism itself the control of industry has largely passed from owners to management and the sovereignty of economic property has already been divided. The essential thing is to subject the decisions of management to social need."

Government ownership is one way of achieving this end said Professor Scott, but there are also other ways. While the fundamental idea of production for use and not for profit was still sound Socialists must keep an open mind as to the timing and degree of socialization.

Then he tossed what must have been a bombshell for many an old-time socialist. He said "We do not oppose the making of profit in all its forms. On the contrary, the profit motive, under proper control is now, and will be for a long time, most valuable stimulus to production. Not a single Socialist party in the world anywhere plans to nationalize all forms of production, and in the privately-owned sector the profit motive must continue."

GREATEST STRIDES

Professor Scott went on to say that Socialist countries of Europe have made the greatest production strides in postwar Europe, despite the fact that they received less Marshall aid.

In carefully-veiled language he said trade unions were becoming a little too monopolistic and needed a little more "social democracy."

Unions have done great things, he said, and many people who are not unionists have benefited from their struggles but such special favors as the powerful unions can squeeze out of large corporations are no more secure than the corporations themselves, are dependent on continued prosperity of the economy and may leave unprotected the mass of workers in smaller unions, besides the even larger group who are still unorganized.

BASIC DIFFERENCE

Then having sounded so much like a good Liberal he said the fundamental difference between Liberals and C.C.F.-ers was that Liberals let the "capitalist profit-seekers" shape the future, while Socialists would plan it consciously to serve human need. Liberals would retain monopolistic practices which stifle initiative and slow growth while Socialists would replace them by Government ownership and democratic controls for maximum production and lower prices.

Liberals would hamper the growth of co-operatives. Socialists would encourage them. Liberals would cling to their undemocratic type of party, run from the top while C.C.F.-ers would make their party ever more broadly democratic. Liberals, by clinging to the private enterprise system would deny the creative power of mankind. C.C.F.-ers affirm it.

Liberals sought to arrest history. C.C.F.-ers marched with it.

He indicated the Conservatives weren't worth much attention. Their sole function was to make intelligent people feel they have to vote Liberal, he indicated, to save themselves from a fate worse than Liberal death.

Glove Tourney Draws Crowd In Playground

A large crowd watched 30 participants battle it out in the city-wide playground boxing tournament yesterday at Central Park.

Dan O'Brien (Central) and Clinton Williams (Central) drew. Bill Pogson (Beacon Hill) and Phillip Williams (Oaklands) drew; Bruce Timbers (Oaklands) and Barry Williams (Oaklands) drew; Ken Griffin (Ellice Street Park) defeated Bud Walls (Oaklands); Eddie Iott (Central) scored a technical knockout over Ronald Spence (Oaklands). Bruce Colvin (Oaklands) defeated Bill Short (Central) and Ian Parker (Beacon Hill) and Alec Marshall (Beacon Hill) drew.

Delegates Live Simply

C.C.F. Convention Contrasts Sharply With 'Hoopla' of Old-Line Conclaves

By FRED McNEIL

VANCOUVER, July 26 — C.C.F.-ers in party convention today at the Hotel Vancouver present a sharp contrast with the "hoopla" of similar meetings of the old-line parties.

Although delegates are meeting in the lush, mahogany-paneled marble-pillared Mayfair Room, few of them were registered at the hotel. They were billeted with party friends or in less expensive hotels.

Missing almost entirely are the smoke-filled rooms, swank suites, where the liquor flows freely and talk goes on late into the night.

C.C.F.-ers, feeling the heat, doff their coats and wander through the luxurious lobbies in shirtsleeves and colorful suspenders. They huddle in secluded corners earnestly talking Socialist doctrines.

SELL LITERATURE

All day long, C.C.F. women faithfully attend a booth packed with literature for sale: books and pamphlets outlining the party gospel, and speaking aids for those who want to spread the Socialist message.

There is an air of great earnestness in the debates on resolutions and frequent references to the "capitalist press" which the Socialists say distorts their cause.

Thursday morning the Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Federation, which has been debating the affairs of Canada and the world behind closed doors for two days, have requested a private audience with the senior body.

INTERESTING SPEAKER

One of the most interesting persons to speak today was Madame Casgrain, who spoke in both French and English. She is wife of Pierre Casgrain, long-time Liberal, one time Secretary of State and Speaker of the House of Commons, now Justice of the Supreme Court of Quebec.

Daughter of Sir Rodolphe Forget, a noted Conservative in his day, she now holds the job of vice-chairman of the Socialist C.C.F. She is vivacious and charming as French women frequently are, and it's obvious that the C.C.F.-ers are proud of her.

PRODUCTION UP.

The volume of Canada's production now is about 75 per cent higher than in 1939.

Cooler Spell Forecast, But No Rain

Victorians can expect cooler weather today, according to the weathermen.

He predicts "cooler and cloudy" weather for the city but no rain. Expected high is 65 degrees.

Unusually prolonged dry spell is starting to affect logging operations on Vancouver Island. The dry spell has already forced 700 men out of work in the Duncan area were logging operations were voluntarily discontinued due to the fire hazard.

The weatherman, however, does give some hope that rain is in the offing—at least on the West Coast of the Island. Forecast for that area is for occasional light rain.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Johns came from Seattle for the wedding of Miss Peggy Dykes to Mr. A. T. Kay, Wednesday afternoon.

Peggy Dykes Is Bride Of Archibald T. Kay

At a quiet ceremony Wednesday afternoon at Erskine Presbyterian Church, Margaret Edith "Peggy" Dykes, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dykes of Victoria, repeated nuptial vows with Archibald Thomas Kay, son of Mr. A. H. Kay of Glasgow, Scotland, and the late Mrs. Kay. Rev. E. G. Thompson officiated and was assisted by Dr. J. R. Johns of St. David's Presbyterian Church, Seattle.

The traditional organ music was played by Mrs. V. Robley. Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. W. A. West, the pretty bride was attired in an ankle-length gown of white eyelet embroidery, fashioned with square, scalloped neckline, and cap sleeves worn with long matching mitts. A coronet of larkspur blooms held her short white veil. A string of pearls was her only jewelry and she carried a fan-shaped bouquet of pastel larkspur and pink roses.

Miss Patsy West, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, wearing a costume similar to the bride's in every detail save for her small Colonial bouquet of larkspur and roses.

Mr. Charles Williams acted as groomsman for his nephew and Mr. John McBain ushered.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Sutton, 1025 Clare Street, where the latter with Mrs. V. Robley welcomed guests with the newlyweds. The table, decorated with pale mauve and white flowers and lighted by white candles, was centred with the three-tiered cake surrounded with tartan ribbon and white heather. The health of the bride was proposed by Dr. Johns of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay will make their home in Victoria.

Over 200 Guests At Tuesday Tea

Over 200 woman attended the Victoria and Island Presbyterial of the United Church W M S. tea held Tuesday afternoon in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay. They were received by Mrs. William Perry, presbyterial president, and Mrs. D. A. Girvin, past president.

Mrs. Ernest McGinnis and Mrs. Cromie were in charge of finances and two representatives from each of the United Churches in the city assisted in catering and serving. Mrs. W. H. Muncy, presbyterial literature secretary, was convener of the tea committee.

A varied program during the afternoon had selections by Mrs. Harry Yousoo and Miss Beverly Husband, contralto and soprano solos; Mrs. Mulholland of Oak Bay Church, recitation; Miss Anne Firth and Miss Husband, duets; Miss Sylvia Slusarenko, piano accordion solos, and Miss Mary McLean, Highland dancing. Almost $80 was realized.

Victoria Purple Star Lodge, No. 104, L.O.B.A., will hold a garden party on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Keatley, 597 Oliver Street. Mrs. O. McKay will preside over the program assisted by Mrs E. Bell, general tea convener. Others in charge will be Mrs. A. Russell, home cooking; Mrs. Freeman King, novelties; Miss Beverly Noel, lady with a thousand pockets, and Mrs. I. Burt, tea tickets. Members of Mrs. Dorothy Farrow's dancing classes will entertain. Lodge members please bring donations for stalls.

Married at St. Andrew's

Mr. and Mrs. James B Forsyth, whose marriage took place recently at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Dolores Thelma Mauro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Mauro.

Barbara Haycroft Wednesday Bride

At a quiet ceremony in Royal Jubilee Hospital Chapel yesterday afternoon, Barbara Haycroft and Lorne (Jimmy) Bauman were united in marriage by Rev. T. McPherson.

Miss Mary Kennedy was bridesmaid and Mr. Les Hammond supported the groom. A small reception was held at 960 Cowichan Street, the future home of the bride and groom.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Haycroft of Nelson, formerly of Victoria, and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bauman of North Vancouver.

Wedding at St. Barnabas' Church

—Photo Centre.

Mrs. Gertrude C. Smith, 651 Transit Road, wishes to announce the engagement of her only daughter, May Gertrude, to Lieut. James Ingraham Murray, R.C.O.C., son of Mrs. J. A. Murray, 1546 Monterey Avenue, and the late Lieut.-Col. Murray. Miss Smith, a September 1949 graduate of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, is the daughter of the late Mr. Charles P. Smith. The wedding will take place at St. Barnabas' Church on August 17 at 2 p.m., Rev. E. Munn officiating.

Italian Grandmother, 82, Starts Anew in Canada

WINNIPEG, July 26 (CP)—Mrs. Concetta Iafolla, a slight, white-haired immigrant from Rome, says that since she arrived in Canada this month she has felt like a bride at a wedding feast.

Centre of affection and attention from her children, whom she had not seen for decades, Mrs. Iafolla has been constantly confronted with tables laden with food and drink.

"I feel I'm getting married again at 82," said Mrs. Iafolla, referring to the Italian custom of staging an elaborate feast at weddings.

Mrs. Iafolla left Italy to join the six of her seven children who live in Canada and the United States.

"I came to see my children, then I can die in peace," she said. "I feel now I can live to be 110 years old."

She is staying at the home of her son, Dave, who left Italy 30 years ago.

"I'm still a little boy to her," chuckled Dave.

Four of Mrs. Iafolla's children live in Calgary, which is her next stop. They are sons, Achilles and Ascanio and two daughters, Mrs. Andre Di Paolo and Mrs. Joe Buccinni. Another daughter lives in New York.

Most of the time Mrs. Iafolla sits at home serenely watching the comings and goings of her children and grandchildren.

But, when Dave played a recording of tenor Beniamino Gigli singing the heartrending "Mamma" it was too much for the old lady.

She broke into tears and embraced the children. But after a while she was smiling again.

"Everything is good," she said. "I'm starting a new life at 82."

Church Auxiliary Buys Equipment

CHEMAINUS, July 26. At the July meeting of the Auxiliary to Chemainus United Church held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Hess, the resignation of treasurer Mrs. Hattie English was accepted. Miss M. Buckmaster was elected to replace Mrs. English who is a patient in Duncan Hospital.

A committee of four was chosen to purchase the kitchen equipment for the new church.

Plans were made for a Thank Offering supper for adults on the Monday following the Church dedication in October. Work on the building has preceeded rapidly with the generous amount of volunteer labor.

Unique Hats for Milady

PARIS, July 26 (AP).—You have to wear your gloves—preferably well stuffed—on top of your hat nowadays to be a la mode in Paris.

French hat designers are showing this unique trimming on the new Fall hats now being paraded here.

A hat show given yesterday by topflight designer Paulette featured derby-shaped caps with "clenched firsts" rising from the crown.

Other highlights of the show were monk's hoods, helmets of feathers surmounted by wings and halo hats worn back to front.

The hoods seem just the thing for an icy Winter day. They fit over contrast-colored skullcaps and snuggle around the neck before merging into brief shoulder capes. Paulette makes them in shaved plush, velvet or wool jersey.

The Royal Club, Order of Amaranth, will have court whist Wednesday evening at the K. of P. Hall, Cormorant Street. All visiting members invited. Local members bring refreshments.

Use Refrigerator Dishes, Wrappings, for Storage

Get the most out of your refrigerator this Summer by storing foods to the best advantage and making use of the innumerable wrappings and containers on the market. Helen Kirtland tells you what to put where, in McCall's for August, and what to put them in:

"Ice creams and frozen packaged food need the coldest spot in your refrigerator. Unfrozen meat, fish and poultry go into the meat keeper beneath the ice cube trays. Fish and cured meats should be wrapped snugly to prevent odors and drying out. Wrap others loosely in waxed paper or foil.

"Cover dairy products closely as they pick up flavors from moving currents of air. Uncovered cheese dries and discolors. Put leftovers in covered dishes. Partially used canned foods can be covered in the opened can, which is often more sterile than a dish.

"Place fresh fruits and vegetables in the refrigerator's covered crisping pans, washed and ready for use at a moment's notice. Exceptions to this rule: Asparagus, Brussels sprouts and berries should not be washed until ready to use. Store peas, limas and corn in nature's covering.

"What to put them in: Wide-mouthed freezer jars — easy to empty of frozen products. Tray of bright-colored plastic molds — for giant ice cubes, individual salads or desserts. Waxed paper and aluminum foil — for handy wrappings. A plastic meat keeper — to modernize an old refrigerator.

"Leftover dishes come in countless shapes, sizes, colors and materials. Some with grooved lids to make stacking easy and save refrigerator shelf space. Some with clear tops so you can see what's inside. Use covered flexible plastic bowls, which pour as easily as a pitcher, and plastic bottles to store liquids.

"Extra covered plastic or enamel refrigerator pans come in handy for fruits and vegetables. Washable zippered nylon bags give extra storage space for salad greens, fruits and vegetables. Whether full or half empty, they can be tucked into any odd corner of a refrigerator shelf."

Meat Balls

Here is a simple recipe for bran meat balls.

Beat 1 egg and add to it 1 teaspoon salt, a shake of pepper, 1 cup all bran and 1¼ cups of milk.

Add 1 pound of round steak, ground, 2 tablespoons of onion, minced, and one tablespoon of chopped parsley. Mix well, and make into inch-thick cakes. Wrap a slice of bacon around each cake, fasten with a toothpick, and bake in a hot oven for ½ hour.

Different Recipe For Cauliflower

Break a cauliflower head into neat flowerets, and steam them in salted water with a couple of tablespoonfuls of milk in it, for only 10 or 12 minutes. Mix and sift a cup of flour with ½ teaspoon of salt, and add to it gradually a cup of milk in which a beaten egg and a tablespoon of melted fat have been blended. Dip the flowerets into this mixture, and then fry them in hot, deep fat for 3 or 4 minutes—until a golden brown. Drain them on absorbent paper, and serve them with a cheese or tomato sauce.

Delicious Picnic Dish

Eat outdoors when temperatures soar and help yourself forget the heat. A perfect picnic lunch can be prepared in the cool of the morning and enjoyed lazily on the sand or under a shady tree, says Helen McCully. Writing in McCall's for August, she tells you how to make some picnic foods that are so delicious you'll want to serve them at home too:

RANCH FRIED CHICKEN

Start your oven at 350 Fahrenheit or moderate. Cut two frying chicken into neat serving pieces or buy chicken parts (fresh or frozen). Sprinkle with flour seasoned with salt and pepper.

Melt four tablespoons of butter or margarine in a heavy skillet. Brown chicken all over. Next, heat four tablespoons butter or margarine and four tablespoons salad oil in a little saucepan. Add one-quarter cup wine vinegar.

When each piece of chicken is golden brown, dip it into vinegar mixture and lay in shallow baking dish. Bake 30 minutes, basting frequently. Cool, wrap in foil and pack it up for the picnic.

Chocolate Mocha Flavor For Unusual Ice Cream

Canada finds it hard to do without homemade ice cream in the Summertime. We have learned to look for some of the more unusual ice cream recipes which do not call for so many rich and fattening ingredients. Take, for instance, that turn-of-the-century favorite, "Biscuit Tortoni," considered by elegant souls like Diamond Jim Brady and his ilk to be a dessert par excellence for the swellest of dinners.

This is, of course, not exactly a true ice cream, but it is, by custom, classified as one. To make it, fold ¼ cup of powdered sugar—use a little less if you like—into 1 cup of cream, whipped. Then fold in 1 stiffly beaten egg white alternately with ½ cup sieved stale dry macaroons and 2 teaspoons sherry. Pack the mixture into individual paper cups, sprinkle the tops generously with sieved macaroon crumbs, and set in the freezing tray of your refrigerator to freeze. Do not stir.

HONEY ICE CREAM

Then there's a delicate sugarless ice cream made by many Chinese cooks, that calls on honey for its sweetening. Half a pound of cashew nuts are soaked in warm water until soft enough to remove the outer skins, and then chopped coarsely. A pound of strained honey is poured over them—care being taken to coat the nuts thoroughly. Then 3 thickly beaten egg yolks are added, and the stiffly beaten and salted whites are folded in, alternately with the same amount of whipped cream as there is of beaten egg whites. This ice cream is best made in a hand freezer, and should be allowed to stand, packed in ice and salt for 2 hours after it has been frozen stiff by churning.

For the refrigerator freezing tray there's a chocolate mocha ice cream that is of fine and unusual flavor. Two squares of bitter chocolate are melted over hot water, and the contents of a can of sweetened condensed milk stirred into it until well blended. This is cooked over boiling water until thickened. Then a can of undiluted evaporated milk, whipped to custard texture, is added together with a cup of very strong coffee, ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract and a dash or so of cinnamon. Let the mixture cool, and then freeze in tray to a mush, about an hour should do it. Remove from refrigerator, scrape sides and bottom of tray, beat mixture thoroughly, freeze again for an hour, scrape and beat, and freeze two hours longer.

Lemon Pudding and Iced Tea

When you think of lemon-flavored foods, think of iced tea—the ideal hot weather combination. Here's a simple lemon pudding topped with whipped cream and garnished with a slice of candied lemon peel. It's a delicious dessert for a hot night and a natural with a cooling glass of iced tea. Double-strength tea can be poured directly over ice in glasses or the tea can be prepared in advance in quantity for use when needed. To make two quarts of iced tea, pour a pint of boiling water over six heaping teaspoons of tea, or six tea bags. Brew for five minutes and strain into a two-quart container. Then fill the container with cold water and store in the refrigerator. To sweeten, add sugar directly to the tea concentrate while hot or serve a simple sugar syrup on the side.

Proper Use of Onions Adds Zest and Flavor

Onions, when properly used, add just the right zest and wholesome flavor to many economy foods. Can you imagine a good beef stew or pot roast without onions? Even the lowly hamburger takes on a new taste when garnished with carefully prepared French-fried onions.

Here's the way to cook them French style. Slice the onions and soak them in milk for half an hour. Dip the slices in seasoned flour, drop them back into the milk again for a moment and then dip them into the flour once more. Now they are ready to be fried in deep, hot fat until they are a golden brown. Drain them quickly and thoroughly.

Onions add a new flavor to the most ordinary salad. Try onion and cucumber slices in thick, cold, sour cream. For a pickled beet salad a few onion rings on top will give the flavor a new zip when covered with salad dressing to which a touch of horseradish has been added. A few brave gourmets alternate orange and onion slices on lettuce, garnish with French dressing and pronounce it delicious.

One dish that is always a great favorite with the family is French onion soup. It's easy to prepare and by simply adding canned consomme or bouillon you can turn out a de luxe treat without straining the food budget. When served with a salad, French bread and cheese, it makes a complete supper. Your family will like French onion soup prepared by this simple recipe.

FRENCH ONION SOUP

4 medium onions
1 tbsp. butter
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
3 cans consomme or bouillon
Dash of pepper
Rounds of toast
Grated Parmesan cheese

Directions: Slice the onions thinly and brown lightly in butter. Add the consomme, water if in condensed form, add sauce and pepper. Simmer until onions are tender. Rub ovenproof casseroles with cut cloves of garlic, pour in onion soup and top with rounds of toast. Sprinkle with cheese and place under broiler until cheese melts. This will serve four.

Latin American Salad

"Gazpacho" is a dish that turns up in various versions in different Latin-American countries. It may be eaten as a first course, or as a salad—actually it is a sort of vegetable stew. The basic recipe follows:

An onion, a big tomato, a green chili and half a cucumber are chopped up rather fine. A slice of bread is crumbled (after the crust has been cut off) and laid on the bottom of a bowl that has been well rubbed with garlic. The chopped vegetables are seasoned with salt, pepper and cayenne, added to the crumbled bread, and all covered with water and permitted to stand 5 minutes.

Then half a cup or more of French dressing is poured in, with plenty of paprika. The mixture is well stirred and then set to chill. It is served in soup plates, as it is of rather a soupy consistency.

In Argentina, sardines and pilot crackers are added. Cuba used lima beans and almonds in its gazpacho. In Brazil, chicken broth is added. Try it any way and add your own variations.

Wins Local Trials

Grainger to Represent City Busmen in 'Roadeo'

A 30 year-old army veteran will represent the Victoria division of the B.C. Electric Company at the 1950 bus drivers' "roadeo" in Vancouver August 6.

BURTON GRAINGER

Burton Grainger, 961 Lavender Avenue, won out over 34 other company drivers here last week in final elimination trials at the B.C. Electric's Garbally Road garage.

At Vancouver, Grainger will meet tough competition from bus drivers representing the company in North Vancouver, New Westminster, Vancouver and a finalist from Pacific Stage Lines.

Grainger has been with the company here for three years—he was a street car operator before the conversion to buses.

He drove army trucks on the Continent but was competing here with many drivers who had additional years of experience in bus-handling.

This will be the first time that Victoria has been represented at the Vancouver finals. The yearly competition started in Vancouver in 1949.

The competing drivers held the trials in their own time. Each driver was required to have driven 12 accident-free months and have had two years' experience in driving buses.

Grainger, who will spend a day in Vancouver familiarizing himself with Brill buses (the trials here were driven in Mack buses), will meet defending champion Gordon Greig, of New Westminster.

Greig was winner of the 1949 finals at Vancouver.

Runner-up to Grainger was 14-year bus driving veteran Russel MacDonald of 1400 Fairfield Road.

Entry rules of the competition are set by the drivers. They include 25 obstacles and tests of parking skill and the ability to manoeuvre in narrow spaces.

Playgrounds In Oak Bay Plan Displays

A series of picnics and displays is scheduled for this week by Oak Bay playgrounds.

A display will be staged at 6.45 p.m. today at Willows Park, and at 6.45 p.m. Friday at Windsor Park. will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at Lafayette Park. Picnics will be held at Willows Park at 9 30 a.m. Friday, and at Windsor Park at 9 30 a.m. Saturday.

Final swimming class of the season had been postponed until 8 a.m. Wednesday to avoid clashing with the picnic schedule.

Oak Bay playgrounds will remain open for an additional week, a special meeting of the playgrounds committee decided. The playgrounds, originally scheduled for a four-week season, will remain open until August 5. Special emphasis will be placed on inter-playground competitions during the last week.

Victorians Pay Tribute to Memory Of Canada's Former Prime Minister

Tribute to the memory of the late Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King was paid yesterday by more than 1,500 Victorians at Christ Church Cathedral.

"All Canada is gathering to mourn the passing of one of her great sons," said Dean G. R. Calvert, who conducted the service in company with Bishop Harold Sexton.

Dean Calvert told of Mr. King's great service to his country and the British Commonwealth of Nations and spoke of the former Prime Minister's great love of liberty, firmly implanted in him by his forbears.

Cathedral bells sounded a half-muffled peal during the 11 a.m. service. The actual funeral service was carried out at Ottawa at 4 p.m. (E.S.T.) in St. Andrew's Church and was conducted there by Rev. A. G. Burnett.

Present at the Cathedral in Victoria were Lieutenant-Governor Charles E. Banks and Mrs. Banks, representing the King. Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, British Columbia Government leader while Premier Byron Johnson was absent in Ottawa at funeral services there, Acting Mayor Harold Diggon, representing Mayor Percy E. George, now on vacation; Oak Bay Reeve P. A. Gibbs, Saanich Reeve Joseph Casey and Esquimalt Reeve A. I. Thomas, and Hon Mr Justice C H O'Halloran.

Represented were the three armed services, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, all of the city's service clubs and the Chinese Benevolent Association.

Legion Branch At Chemainus Gets Transfers

CHEMAINUS, July 26.—Canadian Legion Branch 181 received seven transfers of membership and 36 applications for membership at its July meeting.

Cenotaph committee reported that Davis Greenhorn would install the base for the new site of the Cenotaph, and municipal assistance in the form of materials and equipment was gratefully accepted.

A tag day for funds to finance the transfer of the Cenotaph from its present site on Albert Street to the new site recently donated by the H. R. McMillan Company, will be held on August 11.

President F. Bonde announced the new house and grounds committee for the Legion Hall as F. A. Clark, convener; R. Duncan, W. Eastman, O. E. Saunders and Mrs. Helen Manning. Mrs. Manning is a member of the Women's Auxiliary.

Action of the president in donating a trophy for the best poppies in the garden club show was endorsed.

Bert Deeble has been added to the Legion Club staff as janitor and assistant.

WAGE INCREASE

The rise in the average wage rate of the British worker since 1938 is about 72 per cent, exclusive of overtime.

Glenn Ford Signs With 20th, Still Does Jobs for Columbia

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 26 (INS).—Glenn Ford has signed for five pictures at 20th Century-Fox. When I asked, "How come he gets out of his Columbia contract?" the answer comes up—he doesn't.

He still has four more to make for Columbia, but when Glenn asked for a new deal last year, it was agreed that he could make the remaining films at the rate of one a year.

One thing's for sure—he the happiest guy in town with this 20th set-up. He is already on the lot, making "Follow the Sun," the Ben Hogan golf opus, with Anne Baxter.

Darryl Zanuck has told Glenn that of the five pictures he will make—three will be in the United States and two abroad.

NOT MUCH TIME

There won't be much time for Eddie Albert to help Margo doll up a nursery when they get in Hollywood, August 7.

Eddie starts immediately at Paramount in "Carrie Ames"—originally titled "Sister Carrie." It's his most important movie break—thanks to Paul Small who set the deal.

LIFE OF BILLY ROSE

Who better than Esther Williams can play Eleanor Holm (Mrs. Billy Rose) in the "Life of Billy Rose?"

Let me say quickly that this deal is just in the talking stage with Arthur Freed doing the talking to Billy Rose. Esther would play Eleanor during the height of her swimming fame when she was on the United States team at the Olympic Games.

ROLE FOR MAE WEST

If Mae West wants to make a movie she can have the star role in Buster Collier's "The Last Mail to Helldorado," Ramon Romero's play which Buster will produce independently.

It's a sort of "quartette" of Westerns—about four letters addressed to three men and one woman in the ghost town of Helldorado and how their lives are affected when the letters are routed to the dead letter office.

Buster tells me there are terrific roles for three top Western actors. Mae is made to order for the one big woman's role.

BACK AGAIN

Chit-Chat: Here comes Buddy Pepper again. I haven't heard from him since he was Janie Withers' favorite boy friend. Now Janie is happily married to Bill Moss and has two children.

Buddy's 1950 news is he is courting Mary McCarthy and is trying to coax her to marry him when she opens in Las Vegas, Nevada. She's just finished at the Greek Theatre here in "Miss Liberty."

ACCEPTED MEMORIAL

John Huston, not much of a party-goer, was at the Charlie Feldman dinner. He told me he felt our beloved Walter Huston would have been happy that Barbara Stanwyck accepted, in his father's name, the Scholarship Memorial at Tucson.

Interesting that John has just signed John Dirkes for the role of the tall soldier in "Red Badge of Courage." He met Dirkes, who was with the Red Cross, in London in 1934. Since that time Dirkes has been living in Hollywood with his wife and two children. A telephone call brought him to M-G-M for a test, and this opportunity.

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS

Van Johnson is the first Hollywood star signed for the Command Performance in London, October 30.

Jane Powell took her day off "Royal Wedding" to accompany Geary Steffen to Fort MacArthur. He's in the active reserve.

The Ray Millands have moved up their departure date to August 6. Both of Ray's parents are ill in London.

Richard Greene goes into the hospital in ten days for an operation on his wrist—a recurrence of an old injury.

Biggest hit yet in the Greek Theatre are Ella Logan and David Wayne making the box office jump in "Finian's Rainbow."

My old pal Jimmy Durante had a great opening at Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn in Las Vegas, Tuesday.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Timber Deal Nears Record

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 25 (AP).—In the Pacific Northwest's biggest timber deal of recent years, Harbor Plywood Co. has acquired 1,000,000,000 of virgin timber in Skamania County, it was reported today.

Martin Deggeler, company president, said the timber land was purchased from the Northern Pacific Railway. The price was not disclosed.

The timber is located on a 50-square-mile area in the Peterman tract region on the Lewis River near Mt. St. Helens. Deggeler said the new supply will afford the company a log supply for a long period of time, making it independent of the open log market indefinitely.

Only an excellent defence could beat the game contract in the following deal.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	1 ♥
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West might have given his partner a raise in hearts, over South's one spade, but this would not have kept North-South from reaching the four-spade contract, and East-West scarcely could have afforded to go higher than that! Besides, it wasn't necessary to "save," as things turned out!

West opened the heart deuce and East captured dummy's lone queen with the king. Now, at the second trick, East had to select precisely the right return if his side was to have any chance. It was obvious that no further tricks could be expected except in spades and diamonds, and the bidding strongly indicated that West could not have more than one trump trick, if that. The crux, then, was to try for two diamond tricks, and certainly these could not develop unless West had the diamond king.

Acting on this sound analysis, East not only made the proper shift to diamonds, but selected the one card in that suit that could be effective under the hoped-for conditions. Observe that if East had led the queen, eight or deuce of diamonds, South would have been in no difficulty; in each of these cases he could hold his diamond loss to one trick. On East's actual choice of the diamond ten, however, it was a different story! Now, whether or not South covered with the jack, the defenders were sure to win two diamonds as soon as West got in with his spade king, and meanwhile South could do nothing to protect himself.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during intervening times between the high and low waters as given. 9.9 feet must be subtracted from the heights in this table to conform with the datum of soundings on the charts of the locality.

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garis

NIGHT NOISES

Uncle Wiggily, his wife and some friends were speeding along in Frog Pond. They were aboard the rabbit gentleman's new houseboat, named UNCLE WIGGILY. Mrs. Longears wanted her husband to be like Columbus and discover a new island in Frog Pond.

"Just think how famous you would be, Wiggy!" said the rabbit lady wife. She proudly twinkled her pink nose. "Why, you would be on the radio, in television and everything!"

"Yes, my dear, that might happen if, like Columbus I could discover a new island in Frog Pond," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I think all the islands have already been discovered."

"There's another island just ahead of us, Wiggy. I'm sure no one lives on that one. You are the first one to discover it and we will name it Uncle Wiggily Island," Mr. Bow Wow barked.

"I say, Wiggy!" bleated Uncle Butter the goat, "maybe Bow Wow is right and this is really a new island."

"Well, let's go ashore and find out," said the rabbit uncle. "If we find no one living on this island, it may be a new one."

"And you have discovered it!" said Mrs. Longears. "Oh, my Columbus hero!" The rabbit lady wife blew a kiss to her husband from the tip of her left ear. "Columbus Uncle Wiggily! Isn't that just wonderful, Mrs. Twistytail?"

"Ugh! Ugh!" grunted the lady pig. "Fine Mrs. Longears." Then she kept on eating some corn cake and potato chips, left over from lunch.

"But Mr. Bow Wow saw this island first," said Uncle Wiggily, who was always very fair, honest and true. "I can't say I discovered it, my dear. Archibald Bow Wow should get the credit."

"I don't want any credit," barked the dog gentleman. "This is your houseboat, Wiggy. You are the captain. Columbus may not have been the first in his ship to sight the new land of America. But he got the credit. So this is your island, Wiggy."

"All right, have it your way," said Uncle Wiggily kindly. "But we are now close to the island. Better slow down the motor, Bosun!"

"Aye, aye, sir, Cap'n Wiggily," answered the jolly old sea dog who was engineer on the houseboat. "Slow it is!"

The houseboat came to a stop in shallow water at one edge of the new island. Uncle Wiggily and his friends went ashore.

"Now let's look and see if anyone lives here, like Squankum the mud turtle," said Mrs. Longears. "If there is no one here, this is Wiggy's island. Oh, my dear Columbus!" The rabbit lady was happy.

So they all started out to look around the island. They found no one living there. Then it began to get dark. They went back to spend the night on the houseboat.

"We'll explore more of the island tomorrow," said Uncle Wiggily.

Soon they were all asleep on the boat. But in the middle of the night Mrs. Longears whispered:

"Wiggy! Wiggy! Wake up! Did you hear those noises?"

"What—what noises?" asked the rabbit uncle. "Ah! Hm!"

"Night noises," answered Mrs. Longears. "Listen!"

Uncle Wiggily listened. And you may listen to another story tomorrow if the June bug will please stop walking on the television screen and scaring the cowboys into thinking it is a new wild horse chasing them.

Cobalt Development Enters Good Ore Area

TORONTO, July 26—A. D. Hallens, mine manager of Cobalt Lode Silver Mines, reports at mid-week that the second development raise on the south ore shoot entered good ore with heavy leaf silver in evidence for the full width of the face, ten feet above the back of the 400-foot level. This lengthens the south ore shoot to 150 feet with the south end still open.

London Market Barely Moving

LONDON, July 26 (Reuters)—Small irregular movements were recorded on the London Stock Exchange today. Trading was restricted by the latest developments in Korea and by a desire of operators to await the Parliamentary debate on United Kingdom defence.

Movements in British Government stocks were of ⅛ in either direction and followed institutional switching in the short and medium dated issues.

Price movements in industrials were of little consequence.

Bear covering created an advance of around two points in Japanese bonds. Europeans were mainly steady in idleness.

To Start Work On Pipe Line From Toledo

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—Construction is scheduled to start about August 1 on an eight-inch, 125-mile petroleum products pipe line from Sun Oil Company's Toledo, Ohio, refinery to Sarnia, Ontario, it was announced today by William C. Kinsolving, president of the Susquehanna Pipe Line Company, a Sun Oil affiliate.

The route has been surveyed and the construction contract has been let to H. L. Gentry Construction Company, of Jackson, Michigan. The line is scheduled for completion and operation by about December 1.

Mr. Kinsolving said the new line will be operated as part of the Susquehanna system to deliver gasoline and furnace oils to Sun's River Rouge, Michigan, terminal and carry liquefied gases to a Canadian chemical plant at Sarnia.

Running north out of Toledo to Detroit, then northeast from the south of Pontiac, Michigan, the line will cross the St. Clair River at Marysville, Michigan, and then to Sarnia on the Canadian side.

BOND TRADING QUIET

MONTREAL, July 26 (CP)—Trading continued quiet on the bond market today and prices were a shade easier.

Stocks on New York Market Gain Ground After Three Days of Declining Prices

By I.N.S. and C.P.

Stocks gained ground yesterday on the New York Stock Exchange, ending three straight sessions of declining prices. The advance was minor in character, however. Of the 1,120 issues traded on the stock exchange today advances exceeded declines by only 471 to 409 and 240 closed unchanged.

Volume was good, crossing 2,000,000 shares for the sixth successive day. Total was 2,450,000.

The Dow Jones' industrial averages closed up 0.56 point while the rails and utilities were lower. The rail index was adversely affected by the $1.50 ex-dividend in Santa Fe. Pricewise this division was fairly evenly balanced between plus and minus signs.

Curb stocks were scrambled, with plus and minus signs about balanced. Bonds were firm.

Cotton featured the commodities list. It jumped nearly $4 a bale at the opening, then retreated only to come back strong at the close with gains running from $3 to nearly $4.

Grains were mixed. Wheat was unchanged to lower. Corn, oats and rye were lower but soybeans added nearly five cents a bushel.

In Montreal securities showed a hesitant tone on the Stock Exchange and Curb Market.

Most key issues held a steadier tone near the final hour, while moves in either direction were fractions, with the odd issue moving a point or more.

Trading continued fairly quiet, but improved slightly from the opening. Volume showed industrials with 80,400 shares traded and mines had a turnover of 186,000 shares.

The industrial section and papers were irregularly lower in the selected group, although most issues in these sections were unchanged.

Utilities were unchanged to weaker, but beverages were irregular to higher. A small group of senior oils, carriers and steels were narrowly mixed, while banks continued unchanged.

The base metals section showed a steady to firm tone. Aluminum was unchanged, after gaining two points at 75 during the day. The few advances were small fractions.

A long list of small losers generally dominated the mines, but Western oils moved irregularly.

METALS WELL AHEAD

Moderate demand carried leading base metals well ahead in an otherwise weaker session on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Activity slowed to a crawl as traders paused to digest international news. Volume was about 800,000 shares.

Expectations that Canada's metals would be in increased demand brought a handful of buyers into the base metal market. Leaders like Consolidated Smelters, and Quemont climbed. However most changes were held to small amounts.

Industrials started firmer, weakened in mid-session, and recovered toward the close. The list showed signs of recovery from a two-day decline but opening buying failed to hold. Utilities, papers, and banks were mixed. Steels and refining oils brightened while textiles eased.

Senior golds were fractionally lower and losses ranged up to ten cents in juniors. Western oils showed a balanced list of gains and losses but market leaders were among the losers.

TRADING SLOWS DOWN

Vancouver Stock Exchange trading slowed down today to a crawl in time with other Canadian stock markets as base metals provided practically the only bright spots.

Pend Oreille and Reeves Macdonald improved most while losses and gains were almost equally divided in the oils. Alberta Distillers held a narrow advance as a total of 60,753 shares turned over.

Advice Given Exporters Planning Sales to U.S.

By The Canadian Press

Some advice to exporters is given in a booklet entitled "How to Get Your Share of the American Market," published by The New York Times.

It recognizes that the United States is a big territory for any sales organization to cover, but says the business, industrial and financial centre of the country is located within a relatively small area.

It consists of the 15 States of New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia—and the District of Columbia.

These, with only 11 per cent of the area of the United States, have nearly 60,000,000 people or more than 40 per cent of the country's population, and within them is made more than 40 per cent of the country's retail sales.

STOCKS GO UP

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane publish an advertisement in Wall Street Journal which rates quoting because what it says of American stocks can also be said of Canadian issues. Says the New York firm, in part:

If you own stocks you have probably been concerned about them since the Korean war touched off a decline in the market four weeks ago . . .

~~For our part we wish we could~~ tell you that the market is bound to go up . . . tomorrow, next week, next month. But we honestly can't do that. We don't know. Nobody does.

SOLID INVESTMENT

So don't put us down as either bullish or bearish about the market outlook. But you can put us down as definitely bullish about one thing—the solid investment value of owning good common stocks over the long pull.

Historically, the trend of stocks in this country has been steadily up . . . Despite peaks and valleys, the general proposition stands; stock prices may go down, may even stay down a long time—three years, five years, ten—but they have always come back, always moved to higher ground.

Earnings, Sales Of Newsprint Continue Climb

VANCOUVER, July 26.—Continued improvement in sales and earnings is reported by Powell River Company Limited for the six months ended June 30, 1950. Net profit for the period amounted to $4,065,725, or $3.02 per share of capital stock, as compared with $3,538,527 or $2.63 per share for the first half of 1949. Consolidated profit after depreciation but before income taxes amounted to $6,963,960 as against $5,965,111, while provision for income taxes was $2,898,235 as compared with $2,426,584. These figures are subject to audit and year-end adjustment and include operations of subsidiaries for five months only. A contingency reserve of $400,000 has been provided for in each of the half-year periods.

Newsprint production for the first half of the current year was 146,727 tons as against 141,207 tons for the same period of last year, while newsprint sales rose to 147,253 tons from 138,509 tons. Unbleached sulphite production of 18,452 tons compared with 19,828 tons but sales of unbleached sulphite pulp increased to 19,693 tons from 17,300 tons.

Employment Shows Gains

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP).—Employment in the major non-agricultural industries showed considerable seasonal expansion at June 1, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The advance was accompanied by a rise in payrolls, weekly earnings reaching a new peak for June 1.

The advance general index number of employment, on the base that 1926 equals 100, stood at 196.1, compared with 188.8 at May 1, and 194.5 at June 1, 1949.

Payrolls rose 3 per cent during the month and weekly earnings stood at $44.61, compared with $44.99 at May 1 and $42.32 a year earlier.

Gains in employment ranged from 1.6 per cent in Manitoba and 2 per cent in Ontario to more than 10 per cent in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Saskatchewan.

Early Advance In Grain Cut

WINNIPEG, July 26 (CP)—Early sharp advances in coarse grains on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today were reduced or wiped out to late trading.

An easier tone in United States grain markets brought out increased offerings locally.

Class 2 wheat, for export to countries other than the United Kingdom, was unchanged at $2.06. Export business included an allocation of Belgium of 60,000 bushels.

Chemainus Will Acquire Park If Assured of Co-operation

CHEMAINUS, July 26.—A nine-acre park in Chemainus may become a reality in the near future, if the Municipality of North Cowichan can find assurance of obtaining the land from the Victoria Lumber Company and also assurance from Chemainus service clubs that they will undertake work on the project.

Reeve A. E. Beasley told the council members, "The municipality can't undertake to finance the park, but we'll see it through if the service clubs will pitch in. We can get the land if the Victoria Lumber Company is given assurance that the park will be completed. In other words, we'll take the responsibility for it if the service clubs will work on it."

The park, between Oak Street and the Island Highway, south of the new school grounds, will include picnic grounds, swings, slides, and eventually a wading pool for children. Reeve Beasley said the service clubs want a board set up to supervise work, with one member elected from each club.

PLEBISCITE POSSIBLE

Possibility that some municipality land will be taken out of forest reserve was discussed by the council. It was pointed out by the reeve that there are many people who wish to buy land now included in forest reserve, and most of them want to purchase land along the new highway north of Duncan to subdivide. "If others can make money by doing that," the reeve said, "it's up to the municipality to do the same. After all, we're in business for the taxpayer." The decision may lead to a plebiscite later in the year.

British Columbia Forest Service reaffirmed a letter written to the council in 1930 in which the service denies responsibility for payment for fire loss in areas owned by the municipality or for personal property. The letter was a result of the municipality asking for some settlement for damage in a fire three miles north of Duncan this year.

TO AVOID FLOODS

Work will get under way soon on cutting a new channel in the Chemainus River below Mainguy Island to straighten the flow of water and circumvent piling up of logs and resulting floods. Last year much of the low land around the river mouth was flooded when logs and brush piled up into natural dams.

The Attorney-General is considering the names of two Chemainus residents for the post of magistrate in Chemainus. They are G. C. Saunders and H. E. Heslip. The council feels that the present magistrate, G. A. Tisdall, has too much ground to cover. If the Attorney-General does not agree to appoint a magistrate in Chemainus, council will ask that the Ladysmith magistrate include Chemainus in his territory.

Plan to Probe Flood Report

CAMPBELL RIVER, July 26—Commissioners here will investigate reports that portions of village properties are being flooded by a creek which flows through the Indian reserve.

They will also study a report of an accumulation of flies at the garbage dump, and view the road leading to the dump.

Completion of the new water line leading to Becher Lake Lumber Company mill site in Campbell River North was reported. It will make village water available to about a dozen residents "living nearby."

The new waterworks by-law has been approved at Victoria and returned. Water pressure is reported to be quite satisfactory here during the current hot weather.

Council Approves Move

Ratepayers of Alberni to Decide On $150,000 Street Paving By-Law

ALBERNI, July 26—A special meeting of the Alberni City Council was held at noon Wednesday, presided over by Mayor Ben Wright, to give final reading to a by-law authorizing the raising by way of a loan $150,000 for paving of Alberni streets. The by-law will be placed before the ratepayers on August 10, and voting will take place in the City Hall from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. City Clerk C. Q. Ryan will be returning officer.

The complete paving program planned is as follows: Pemberton Road from Margaret Street to Adelaide Street, Southgate Road from Victoria Quay to Adelaide Street, Burke Road from Victoria Quay to Helen Street, Beale Road from Helen Street to the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway right-of-way, Beaufort Road from Helen Street to the E & N. Railway right-of-way, Latham Road from Margaret Street to Ian Avenue, Glenside Road from Margaret Street to Spencer Street, Princess Road from Leslie Avenue to Ian Avenue, Victoria Quay from Kitsucksis Creek Bridge to Burke Road, Margaret Street from Pemberton Road to Kitsucksis Creek, Gertrude Street from Roger Creek Bridge to Glenside Road, Elizabeth Street from Pemberton Road to Glenside Road, Swanson Street from Arrowsmith Road to Latham Road, Adelaide Street from Pemberton Road to Arrowsmith Road, David Street from Arrowsmith Road to Latham Road, Helen Street from Southgate Road to Latham Road, May Street from Beale Road to Beaufort Road, Leslie Avenue from Johnston Road to Craig Road and Ian Avenue from Johnston Road to Compton Road East.

Merrifield Street from Southgate Road to Johnston Road will be ditched and gravelled.

Taxi Meters May Be Ordered In Alberni District Next Year

PORT ALBERNI, July 26—The question of meters for taxicabs again was discussed at this week's meeting of the City Council, and if operators of taxis are of the same mind around next January 15 as they are now, there probably will be an amendment made to the traffic by-law ordering meters in all cabs.

A delegation was present from Alberni District United Cabs Association. One independent operator, James Berry, was present. James Bates, general manager for the association, explained to the council that 29 owner-operators of United Cabs had petitioned individually for the meters.

Mr. Berry, of Alberni, was all in favor of meters. He had just left the Alberni Council meeting and he believed that Alberni would concur in whatever steps were taken in Port Alberni, but he thought that both councils should meet with all the operators for the "protection of the people."

He would not want a "half-baked" by-law and if passed, he said, it should be enforced. Alderman Cecil Raikes pointed out that there was only one independent operator present and he was in favor of meters. This, he said, should be an index as to the council's position.

Gordon Campbell, city solicitor, explained to the delegation and to council that the licences were granted for six months, and the earliest date that the amendment to the traffic by-law could be enforced would be January 15, 1951.

Report on New Pool at Port Alberni Shows Use by 4,921 in First Month

PORT ALBERNI, July 26—A report on the operation of the new swimming pool in Recreation Park for 22 days, since its official opening on July 1, shows a total attendance of 3,643. Adult attendance was 697 and swimming class attendance 381, the latter free.

Total attendance was 4,921, with receipts up to July 23 of $721.95. Eighty-eight tickets were sold at $2 each while eight adult season tickets were sold at $5 each.

Highest days' attendance was on July 1 when 1,353 persons used the pool. The lowest day's attendance was on July 9 when only 33 persons went for a swim. The average daily attendance for the 22 days was 223.

NOT FAIR

When the report was read to the City Council, Alderman Maurice Wren felt that as the pool seemed to be doing so well, the prices for children could be reduced. It was costing him about 60 cents a day and he felt it was too much.

Mayor L. J. Jordan thought that a reduction in prices would not be fair to those who had purchased season tickets. He would like to see all the children swimming free, but certain costs had to be met.

Alderman A. C. Flannigan, chairman of the Parks Board had heard no complaints about prices, and 52 season tickets were available which would considerably cut the cost to families. He favored setting up a system where one ticket would do for a child all day. Mayor Jordan said the money would be needed to put a heating plant into the pool.

Alderman Wren said that as all the taxpayers had built the pool, it should be for the use of their children. He claimed many children were denied the use of the pool because they could not afford the fees.

Alderman Flanagan moved the adoption of the report, and a motion that the present rates and fees be carried out for this season. Both motions were passed.

Next game tonight: Salmonbellies vs. Adanacs, Queen's Park Arena.

An expected scalping match between North Shore Indians and Victoria Shamrocks attracted the largest Inter-City Lacrosse League crowd of the season—3,356—into Memorial Arena last night to watch the Tribesmen continue their hex over the Victorians and come from behind to take a 9-8 decision.

Although the clubs apparently forgot about their heralded grudge battle they remembered how to play lacrosse and treated the spectators to one of the best contests of the year with the issue in doubt up to the final horn. The breaks played a big part in swinging the victory to the Indians.

ANCHORS DEFENCE

Portly Bill Dickson, coach of the Tribe, who reportedly injected himself into the line-up for the express purpose of collecting a few Irish scalps, tended strictly to his boxla business and anchored the strong defence that finally thwarted the Victoria attack. It was Dickinson who snatched Bo Bradford's rebound off the end boards at 8.50 of the final quarter and flipped in the goal that deadlocked the score 8-8 leaving it up to Marion Cervi to dunk the winner a minute later.

Despite a penalty to Indians' Mel Jones, the Shamrocks were unable to beat Goalie Stan Josephs as they stormed around the Indian net in the dying stages. Josephs proved to be the biggest stumbling-block to the Irish attack. The honest-to-goodness Indian turned in a terrific display as he turned aside 34 shots, many from point-blank range.

FAST FIRST QUARTER

Neither club was able to score in the fast-moving first quarter. Duff McCaghey found the answer to Josephs style by firing a low shot into the corner to open the scoring on the first play of the second period. Norm Coates made it 2-0 before the visitors came back with three straight tallies for a 3-2 lead.

Shamrocks bounced back to gain a 5-3 advantage as Arnie Ferguson, Darrell Popham and Bob Monaghan scored within a space of 19 seconds before Glen Johnson notched his third goal for the Tribe. The visitors garnered the odd goal in five in the bruising third period and Darrell Popham gave the Rocks the lead for the last time midway through the final session to set the stage for the Indians' closing drive.

DRAWS BOOS

Dickinson started the contest as the most unpopular figure on the floor, drawing a chorus of boos with every move he made. However, before the game was over, Referee Gordy Folka had usurped his place as the villian in the hearts of the fans.

Folka made several calls that hurt the Shamrocks' chances, drawing considerable criticism in the final quarter when he disallowed a goal by Art Green and Dickinson scored on the return rush. Then, when Coates was tripped as he broke into the clear, he merely awarded a free shot from well out, when many thought a penalty shot should have been called.

KERRIES LOSE

Richmond-Kerrisdale failed in one of its few remaining chances to gain a play-off berth by dropping a 15-8 decision to New Westminster Adanacs and now must win most of its remaining eight games to entertain hopes for the play-downs.

Reo Jerome and Mike Munro led the scoring attack that boosted the Adanacs into an 8-3 lead at half time, and the A's were never seriously threatened.

PLAY-OFFS SHAPING

Though the play-offs are shaping up with the Indians playing either Burrards and Salmonbellies, and Adanacs with Victoria Coach Bob Lee is not very happy. "I would like to meet Indians in the play-offs," said the Adanac mentor. "We have an edge on them for the season and I figure they would be easier than Victoria."

League play-downs start on August 28, with the first-place team scheduled to meet the fourth-place finishers, and the second and third clubs slated to contest the other best-of-three semi-final. Final series will be over a best-of-five route.

W.I.L. Scorer Raps Conduct Of Chief Men

The official W.I.L. scorer has sent in a complaint to League President Bob Abel over the conduct of Rupert Thompson and Don Fracchia, manager and third baseman, respectively, of the Wenatchee Chiefs.

According to a Canadian Press story, Thompson refused to give the scorer his line-up before last night's game between the Chiefs and Vancouver Capilanos. Fracchia is accused of using abusive language.

The fracas stemmed from the scorer's refusal to change three Vancouver errors in Tuesday's games to base hits for Wenatchee players.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Dear Mervin:

Well, here I am with enough space for a column, nothing important to write about and not much time to do it in. Besides, guess it is about time I answered your last letter. Everybody but you seems to be wondering why I don't write, but suppose it's because people do like to read someone else's mail.

Been wondering whether or not you intend to come back here for your holidays. If you do and it's later in the year, don't forget to bring your bow and arrow. It's legal to hunt with them in British Columbia now and you might as well join the would-be Robin Hoods who'll be prowling our woods late in September. You always did like to be different and that's the motivation for most of those 16th century huntsmen. Next thing you know, they'll discover fire.

Incidentally, didn't take too kindly to your slighting remarks about our ball club. Calling them the Apathetics, Arthritics and Pathetics, even in fun, is hardly good taste coming as it does from a guy who is batting clean-up for a bunch of characters who have won only one game all season. Still reaching for that high one?

So the A's aren't in the first division. So what? They've lost 23 games by one run, so they're not too far off, and we lost one of our best players at the worst possible time. What about your "surprise" club, the Philadelphia Athletics, who were going to give Connie Mack a pennant to celebrate his 50th anniversary as manager? They're so far behind now that only you and Bert Butler know where to look for them. Which reminds me that both of you are expected to pay up as soon as the season is over. Might as well send it along right now.

And what about the "lucky" Yankees you consigned to the second division. You'll notice they're not too far away. They may not win but three clubs are doing a lot of worrying about them. If Mize can keep hitting and DiMaggio comes through in the late run, and I think he will—they are quite capable of sneaking in again. I don't think the Tigers can make it and the Indians may lack something. I'll take the Yanks and Red Sox in the home stretch. Boston can win without Williams now that they have a new manager.

It looks like the Dodgers for the other series club. They haven't been going too well but are still awfully close and, as they have more good players than the other clubs, they should win. But like most people, I am pulling for the Phils and they could do it if they can stay close until Simmons comes back and they don't lose any of their youngsters in the draft.

Must admit you turned out to be right about Lynn Patrick. As you know by now he didn't stay but he did have every intention of taking over the Cougars. His loss was quite a blow but it doesn't mean that the Cougars won't be in there this season. With the support they got for a last-place club last season, you can be sure that they will come up with something better this time. No announcement yet about the new coach but thinking about hockey brings to mind that the Cougars will be in training in two months. What happened to the Summer anyway?

Had to leave your letter and now am in no mood to finish. Just back from the ball game and we lost our 24th one-run decision only this time they dragged the agony out on extra inning. Sometimes I wish I didn't have to go out there. It's too hard on my nerves and don't like this sneaking back to work hoping that no one will see me and ask me what happened to my Spring-training predictions. The A's have let me down. I won the pennant for them at Kamloops but they don't seem to be able to hold it.

No, I haven't been away on any more trips except for the time I went to Tacoma with the A's early in the month. They lost two out of three, both by one run, so I came right back. Am going to go fishing and try and forget it all. If things don't change soon, think I'll get myself a bow and some arrows and get lost in the woods.

Will Seek Hambletonian Victory

Winner of Hambletonian classic in 1945, E. R. Harriman of New York will seek another victory this year with Florican, bay son of Spud Hanover. Florican, seen working out at Good Time Park, Goshen, New York, with Harry Pownall driving, won $47,604 as juvenile last year.

Cabbies Downed, 8-5

Forest Products Wins First of Semi-Finals

BC Forest Products took another step towards the Senior "A" Men's zone softball finals last night. They handed Bluebird Cabs an 8-5 defeat in the first game of a best-of-three semi-final at Upper Central Park. Second game will be played Sunday afternoon.

For four innings the game was a brilliant mound duel between Bud Ross of the Millmen and Charlie McKay. But both infields came apart in the late innings and the calibre of play was considerably below that of Tuesday's game between Douglas Tire and Brentwood Aces.

The Millmen cracked first. Ross held a 1-0 lead going into the fifth when two errors and a sacrifice gave the Cabbies the tying run and left a runner aboard with one out. He forced the runner at second but was apparently shaken by his weak support. He then gave up a walk and successive singles to Bob Embleton and Ben Ethier for three more Cabbie runs.

COUNT EVENED

Bluebirds reciprocated with two errors to start a three-man rally by the Lumbermen in the bottom half of the inning. That evened the count at 4-4. Jim Ireland opened the bottom of the sixth with a home run and Forest Products added three more markers on two walks and a single as the Taximen contributed another pair of bobbles.

Far from through, Cabbies picked up an earned run in the eighth and threatened after two were out in the ninth when Lum Lomas and Bill Raftery singled in succession. Ross struck out George Robertson to end the threat.

Feminine Favorite

BILL MELBY

Runner-up for "Mr. America" title last year, should prove popular with feminine fans when he makes first Victoria appearance on Promoter Rocky Brooks' weekly wrestling card at Memorial Arena tomorrow evening. Melby will meet Jack Kiser, favorite of city fans, in top half of double main event with Eddie Williams matching holds with Frank Sciksay of Hungary in other half. Cal Roberts and Bob De Marce will tangle in one-fall opener with 30-minute time limit. Mona Le Berge and Betty Elstian will make return appearance by popular request in special bout of four five-minute rounds. First bout starts at 8.30.

The Alberta Hockey Association announced yesterday it was in favor of shelving the "major series" that the C.A.H.A. has adopted for the five top senior hockey leagues in Canada.

Strong Opening Gives Saanich Win Over Reds

A big first inning last night gave North Saanich the edge over Red's Service in the women's zone softball play-offs. Held to a 5-5 tie in the first game the Suburbanites last night scored all their runs in the first inning and held on for a 5-3 decision in the second game at Sidney. Third game of the best-of-five final will be played tomorrow at Lower Central.

North Saanich counted the five runs on as many hits, an error and a passed ball, but was held to three hits by Dora Jones over the rest of the route.

Two Victories Won in Henley By Jack Guest

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., July 26 (CP)—Jack Guest, Jr., of Toronto, is Canada's white-haired boy in the sculling world.

The 17-year-old youngster, son of a Diamond Sculls winner, showed his stuff at opening of the four-day Canadian Henley today, coming up with victory in the high school singles final and a first in an open quarter-mile heat. He took both with ease.

His efforts in this 68th edition of North America's premier regatta stamped him as an almost certain Canadian entry in the 1952 Olympics.

One other double winner turned up in the afternoon's short program—Bob McIntyre of the Seattle Tennis Club. He qualified for the final of the junior singles and his triumph in an open quarter-mile dash heat gave him a final berth with Guest, the event to be raced later in the week.

Six events were run off under a scorching sun with hardly a breeze to ruffle the one-mile 550-yard course.

Only one upset occurred during the day when Joe Angyal, 32-year-old fireman from the New York Athletic Club, surrendered his 145-pound quarter-mile title to Rudy Jerek of the Ravenswood Boat Club, New York.

Times were slow with the winners, in most events, coasting to easy decisions.

Speaking Briefly

Larry Doby, star colored outfielder of the Cleveland Indians who was beaned in an exhibition game Monday, was discharged from hospital yesterday.

* * *

Dr Arnold Beisser ended Herbie Flam's sensational win streak yesterday when he defeated the collegiate champion, 6-2, 6-1, in the Southampton (N.Y.) Invitation Tennis Tournament.

* * *

Friends of Joe Louis stated yesterday the former world heavyweight champion was ready to start training for a September title bout with Ezzard Charles.

* * *

Frank Morris, captain of the Toronto Argos last season, joined the Edmonton Eskimos yesterday bringing to 11 the number of former Argos in training with the Alberta football club.

Colts Defeat Beacon Hill

Colts scored their third straight win over Beacon Hill in the mid-week cricket series at Beacon Hill Park yesterday, running up an overwhelming 122-37 score.

Batting first, the winners lost their first two wickets cheaply but Cross came on to hit up 53 runs and McIlvenny and Bowkett added 29 and 23, respectively.

Beacon Hill could do little with the Colts' bowling. Only Jim Oakman, with ten, and Parker, with 14 managed to get into double figures.

Scots Down Collingwood In Province Cup Replay

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP)—St. Andrews added the Province Cup to their 1949-50 silverware collection tonight when they beat a fighting Collingwood team, 4-2, in the replayed Province Cup final before 1,500 spectators. The Scots thus added the trophy to the Coast League championship bauble, and the Anderson Knockout Cup which they had previously won. The Dominion championship competition is the only one in which they lost out this season.

There was no doubt that they were the better team tonight and deserved their victory, but Collingwood never gave up trying, and five minutes from time it was anybody's game, with St. Andrews leading, 3-2, and the Collies buzzing around Goalie Bob Newbold for an equalizer.

There was more method in the Coast League team's play, and that was the factor which gave them victory. Had Collingwood possessed the same positional methods they might have won, because they had more zip than the Scots, but their players were generally making single-handed efforts and found it impossible for one man to beat a packed defence.

HAD BEST PLAYER

At that, they might have been awarded two penalties, and they certainly had the best player on the field in George Smith on the right wing.

St. Andrews took a 2-0 half-time margin on goals by John Helley and Doug Greig. Collingwood counted early in the second half when Smith headed into the unguarded St. Andrews goal, and George Steele put the Scots two goals up again after 30 minutes. Smith made it 3-2 with five minutes remaining when he converted Bill Leslie's cross, but Doug Greig notched the clincher on the restart when he received a perfect pass from Brian Philley.

Glen's Last Stand Too Much for A's

His Homer, Two Triples, Single Give Ron Smith Eleventh Loss

Spokane	42	60	.416	19½

Victoria Athletics have seen the last of Glen Stetter this season and they were hardly sorry when he took the midnight boat to Vancouver with his teammates of the Spokane Indians.

Stetter is hardly the most graceful of ball players. He is no speed demon, he doesn't throw too well, and they are still searching for the position he can handle defensively. He doesn't even look like a hitter when he takes his exaggerated crouch over home plate. But, brother, how he can hit in Royal Athletic Park.

Last night was no exception as the Indians went ten innings to salvage the final of a three-game series with the A's 5-4. The stocky W.I.L. veteran combed Ron Smith for a home run, two triples and a single in five trips, batted in three runs and scored two. His home run came with a man on in the first inning and gave the Spokes their only runs off Smith until the fatal tenth.

It was Stetter again then, as he slashed his second triple to right field to score the tie-breaker and touch off a rally good for three runs, just enough to take care of Victoria's comeback attempt.

Stetter's hitting last night prompted some research. A score-book check disclosed that he had made 23 hits in 44 trips at Athletic Park this season. He scored 14 runs and drove in 17 in the 11 games he played here and his batting average figures out at 523.

Further research disclosed other interesting, if sad, data. Last night's game wound up the season's play between Spokane and Victoria with the last-place Indians winning 14 games and losing eight. They won ten of those games by one run and three by two and, with Wenatchee Chiefs, are mainly responsible for the A's present plight. Last night's was also the 24th one-run setback for the unfortunate A's and the sixth time Smith has been beaten by the odd run. His record now reads 7-11. The loss also kept the A's from moving ahead of Salem to fifth spot.

Although he gave up 15 hits, Smith pitched a creditable game. As it turned out, it was a two-out single by weak-hitting Chuck Davis in the first inning which lost it for him. Stetter followed with his homer and the A's could only manage to tie it as Smith then pitched eight scoreless innings.

EIGHTEENTH HOMER

Gene Thompson carried the offensive lead for the losers. He hit his 18th home run in the fourth and tied it up by driving in his 85th run of the season in the sixth with an outfield fly.

Leon Mohr led off in the tenth with a perfect bunt down the first-base line. After Davis popped out, Stetter managed to get an 0-2 pitch into right field for a triple. He scored when the relay wasn't handled properly. Frank Match then followed with another triple on a short fly which McGuire just failed to reach and scored what proved to be the winning run on Edo Vanni's single.

McGuire hit his first home run, a long clout, after Al Ronning singled in a pinch-hitting role in the Victoria tenth. Manager Alan Strange immediately yelled to bring Dick Bishop for John Conant, who set down Junior Krug, Lou Novikoff and Thompson in order to give Bishop his tenth win.

MARSHALL STARTING

It will be John Marshall tonight against Wenatchee as the Chiefs move in for four games. Opposing Marshall likely will be Joe Blankenship, former Victoria stalwart. Blankenship has allowed only five hits in his last two outs and is in top form. In his last two starts against the A's, he has pitched a shutout and one-run victories.

BILL WEATHERWAX

First-baseman Jim Wert and Catcher Bill Weatherwax yesterday joined former Athletic teammate Edo Vanni on roster of Spokane Indians. Weatherwax, released last week by Athletics, remained in Victoria and was signed as a free agent by the Indians. Wert was sold outright to Spokane club. Marty Krug, Jr., will finish out season at first for the A's, while Hal Danielson will spell Al Ronning with backstopping duties.

Circuit Blow Saves Sailors

Jack Allan's sixth-inning home run last night gave Navy a 7-6 decision over Tarrows and a one game lead in the best-of-five Senior "B" men's zone softball final. Second game will be played tonight at Upper Central.

Sailors blew 1-0 and 4-1 leads in the early innings and had to come from behind in the fifth to tie the count and set the stage for Allan's winning blow.

The Sportlight

By GRANTLAND RICE

This gala season of 1950 is still adding to its comeback record. It began with Ben Hogan and almost registered with Citation, who ran swiftly but not quite fast enough. Hogan was away 11 months and Citation 14 months.

Another arrival was Billy Southworth, who had to retire last Summer. More than a few thought the Braves manager would never report again. He not only reported but has his ball club in the front-line trenches with a good chance to win again. Southworth has done one of his best jobs after almost a complete collapse last Summer.

The Cubs and Frank Frisch looked to be sunk again at the start of the season. Frank had been away from the game for some time when he took over the Cubs. He couldn't help them much in 1949 but he has a different club working in 1950, and he will have a better club ready for 1951.

Then there is a young fellow by the name of Johnny Mize. Johnny was rated all through. His own league let him go when the Yankees took a last stand. Then Georgia Johnny was sent to Kansas City. His big-league days were over. But further Yankees injuries gave Johnny another chance. The famous hitter came back to life again, using a piece of ash for this purpose. In the Yankee drive recently, with such stars as DiMaggio and Henrich out of action, Big John resumed his old habit. He was the star hitter of the club through an important stretch.

Mize as a rule either hits a single or a home run. It has always been said that the batting eye is the last important factor to leave. First the arm or legs begin to give out. As Ty Cobb once said: "You get your first leg warning in starting. Once under way you can run practically as fast as ever. But you can't start as fast."

You Can't Buy Pennants

One of the major faculties in baseball's stability is the fact that no one can buy a pennant. Tom Yawkey has proved that.

The Red Sox owner has spent at least $5,000,000 in the last few years to get the best talent, but this talent has won only one pennant since 1918. That was in 1946 making it a little matter of 28 years between championships.

The wealthy Mr. Wrigley hasn't been able to buy a pennant for his Cubs since 1945. They have been settling for last place in 1948 and 1949 but should fare better this season.

The latest case is the Pirates' new ownership. They raised enough money to invest as much as $5,000,000 in new talent. They even turned loose $100,000 for an 18-year-old high school star who has yet to prove he is worth $18. The $5,000,000 at the end of three years has left the Pirates in a desperate struggle to finish out of the cellar.

The cellar is where they'll probably finish. In Manager Meyers the Pirates have one of the smartest leaders in baseball. That didn't help either. It was certainly not Meyers' fault. It wasn't the owners' fault. They spent their cash lavishly. In 1948 it began to look as if the Pirate owners were going to buy a flag. They made a strong showing. They looked so good in 1948 that many picked them to finish 1-2 in 1949. The owners spent new money in 1949 but the Pirates took a dizzy dip. They spent more money for 1950—and took an even deeper slide.

No wonder owner Frank McKinney decided to bolt the scene. When you buy a pretty fair club and put $5,000,000 extra into it and drop from the first division to last place, it is time to retire.

Branch Rickey has never had a bank roll with which to work. But while winning pennants in later years he also has been selling talent at a profit. On the side such comparatively poor men as Connie Mack and Clark Griffith plus the Browns and White Sox owners have little chance to compete with the richer clubs. The teams with the best farm systems usually win out. The Dodgers and Yankees have had the best farm systems in the last few years. When the Yankees saw DiMaggio and Henrich fading they still had Woodling, Bauer, Mapes and others for outfield duty and they were all good. It isn't money that builds farm systems. It is intelligent operation. This is much more important than mere cash.

Won't Tackle Charles

Lee Savold's Plans Call For One More Big Fight

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, July 26 (INS)—Here is a little yarn which, if written as fiction, you might be inclined to doubt could happen. But every word of it is fact.

It concerns Lee Savold who, as you know, is recognized in Europe as the world's heavyweight champion since his knockout of Bruce Woodcock.

It shows [illegible] what a smart [illegible] Savold really [illegible] discloses how much he has made. It shows also he will not meet Ezzard Charles and it gives an inkling to some of the inner workings of the fight racket.

First of all, Savold is all washed up as a fighter, and nobody recognizes that fact as well as he. He knows that if he had to go over six rounds he would collapse. He also knows he could not lick one side of Ezzard Charles.

NO BOOZE NOW

Lee is in as good condition as a fellow over 34 can be. He has trained conscientiously for the last two years and has steered clear of the booze that once had him bloated up to about 240.

He got more than $50,000 for licking Woodcock; he got more than $20,000 from a British newspaper syndicate for his life story; and he has had 15 exhibitions which netted him anywhere from $600 to $900 each and all he had to do for some of them was appear and take a bow.

That is a huge sum of money for a fellow who only two years ago was flatter than a pancake and also at one time had given up the ring to take a job as a bartender.

SAVING MONEY

As we said, Lee is smart and he is saving his dough. He wants to double what he has and then retire to a life of ease.

He will give exhibitions for a year and then have one more big fight in London and he will make so much from that one he won't care whether he wins or loses.

He will positively not fight Charles, but he would be willing to fight Joe Louis because that one shot also would make him independent.

You recall, of course, that he got his chance when he stepped in at a moment's notice to take the place of Joe Baksi against Gino Buonovino and scored a one-round knockout.

But you probably never heard how that came about. Lee had been training faithfully for six months hoping to get a bout in London when he dropped into Madison Square Garden the day Baksi was forced to withdraw.

One of Gino's managers got hold of Lee and said: "Too bad you're not in shape or we could use you."

Lee replied: "That's right. I'm in no shape at all. Haven't been training and haven't had a fight in ages but I could use a few bucks."

PUT ONE OVER

When Gino's henchman heard that he rushed in to Matchmaker Al Weill and said: "I've found a great opponent for Gino. Lee Savold." And that's how Lee put one over on a so-called smart operator, who thought he was getting a soft touch for Gino.

And that night in the Garden a friend of ours visited Lee in the dressing room and asked him if he were leveling. Lee assured him he would do his best and our pal passed the word along to the mob to bet their shirts on Savold.

The mob told our pal they were cutting him in on all bets but when he went to collect they told him they couldn't get the bets down!

And that's how they operate in the fight racket. And where did we get all this? From a guy who should know—Lee Savold.

The major league baseball spotlight yesterday swung from the torrid National League pennant race to what has now become just as hot a race in the American League.

Detroit Tigers saw their lead trimmed to half a game as Mel Parnell and Bobby Doerr collaborated to give Boston Red Sox a 1-0 victory over the Tigers while the runner-up New York Yankees trimmed St. Louis Browns, 6-3. Boston's victory moved the fourth-place Sox within four and a half games of the lead while Cleveland's third-place Indians crept within a game and a half, with a 6-2 victory over Philadelphia Athletics.

Parnell took heat treatments on a sore shoulder, which has sidelined him for ten days, only four hours before game time. He stopped the Tigers on five hits to even his season's record at seven wins and seven losses with Doerr giving him all the margin he needed with a second-inning home run. Doerr's homer was his 18th of the season and 199th of his career. Parnell's victory was his 11th against three defeats in games against Detroit.

Joe DiMaggio's 19th homer with [illegible] Mize on base in the sixth [illegible]ed to be the winning blow for the Yankees. Rookie Ed Ford gained his second victory although needing help from Tom Ferrick in the sixth.

Another brilliant relief pitching performance by Sam Zoldak paced the Indians to their triumph. Zoldak took over from Mike Garcia in the third and shut out the Athletics the rest of the way for his third victory in seven days. He has now completed 20 consecutive scoreless innings in relief roles.

Philadelphia Phillies stretched their National League lead to a game and a half by downing Chicago Cubs, 6-4, while St. Louis Cardinals dropped a 7-5 decision to Brooklyn.

HEAVY SIXTH

The Cubs broke a string of 27 consecutive scoreless frames in the first inning and built up a 4-0 lead but the Phillies combined six walks and two hits off Walt Dubiel for all their runs in the sixth.

A pair of two-run homers by Jim Russell and another two-run round-tripper by Roy Campanella paced the Brooklyn attack as the Dodgers ran up an early lead and held on to edge the Cards.

Pittsburgh dropped Boston Braves back into fourth place by handing the Beantowners an 8-4 setback. Vern Bickford of the Braves suffered his first defeat after seven straight victories.

Sal Maglie fashioned a neat six-hitter and singled in the winning run as New York Giants posted their seventh straight win—a 3-2 triumph over Cincinnati Reds.

O.C. Cricket

LONDON, July 26 (Reuters)—Amateur cricketer Freddie Brown today treated Lord's cricket ground, mecca of the game, to some of the most spectacular batting seen for many a day.

As captain of the Gentlemen in the annual Gentlemen (amateurs) vs Players (professionals) match, he knocked up a mighty 122 in 110 minutes.

One of his tremendous drives sent the ball sailing into the pavilion for six. Sixteen times he stroked it to the boundary for four.

Four Winners Complicate Daily Double

FORT ERIE, Ont., July 26 (CP)—Four firsts in two races gave pari-mutuel mathematicians a first-class headache in figuring out the Daily Double—a joint payoff on the winners of the first and second races—at the Fort Erie race track today.

Ramillion and Hi-Pal raced to a dead-heat in the first race. Second Act and Lady Isley did likewise in the second. It was the first win this year for all four horses.

Old-timers around the track and in the press box said they never had heard of such a mix-up during the 30-odd years Daily Doubles have been on Canadian tracks. To the best of their knowledge it hasn't happened in the United States either.

The Daily Double payoff was delayed for more than an hour.

Hi-Pal and Second Act paid $10.35. Hi-Pal and Lady Isley $11.55. Ramillion and Second Act $26.85. Ramillion and Lady Isley $29.15.

By a further coincidence the winners of the second race both closed at $8.45 to $1. Due to differences in breakage figured in the pay-off, Second Act paid $8.40 to win; Lady Isley, $9.10.

Golf—Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

On a down-hill lie you're apt to have the feeling that the hill is in the way. Have your left leg [illegible] and your right leg bent so that your body, hips, and shoulders are even as in a normal shot. Then play the ball well back of centre. Use a more lofted club than you would ordinarily use for the distance desired, because you will be swinging down at the ball and therefore, at impact, the club-face will be more vertical than if the ball were positioned forward of centre as in a normal shot. Be sure the clubhead follows through close to the ground along the direction line. In a down-hill lie, have a bit more weight on the right foot than the left to help maintain balance.

Mistake Pays Off For Ticket Seller

DENVER, July 26 (INS)—A mutuel ticket seller at Centennial Park near Denver was $1,650 richer today because he made a mistake.

The seller punched out four $50 win tickets on the No. 2 horse in the fifth race, but the bettor actually wanted four tickets in that amount on the No. 3 horse.

The worried clerk managed to sell one of the No. 2 tickets. He spent all the time during the race figuring out how many days he would have to work to pay back the $150.

Then he heard the announcer say ". . . entering the winner's circle—No. 2, Domstead."

The seller tossed away his figuring, and prepared to bank $1,650. The winner paid $34 on the nose.

Joe Kirkwood Trick Golfer But Also Ace

Often overlooked by many golf enthusiasts is the fact that Joe Kirkwood, who has gained international fame through his trick-shot ability, is also one of the country's top-flight golfers.

Kirkwood who is to appear at the Uplands Golf Club on Saturday, will open his program at 3 p.m. when he partners Ken Lawson in a nine-hole contest against Bob Morrison and Eric Hibberson. Following the match he will present his noted repertoire of trick shots and conclude the exhibition with a golf clinic.

Several new stunts are expected to make Kirkwood's exhibition all the more interesting.

Seek Records For Mile Run In Track Meet

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP)—The 1950 British Columbia open track and field championships sponsored by the B.C. Track and Field Association will be held at the U.B.C. stadium, Saturday, August 5.

This is the first time since 1947 that the association has sponsored and run its own championships. The proceeds will help build the fund that will be required to send the athletes East for the Olympic trials in 1952.

Bill Parnell, a member of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. squad, and Jack Hutchins, Vancouver, will attempt to set a new Canadian mile record. There are two marks for them to shoot at. The native record of 4:17.6 set by Art Clarke, of the Achilles Club, in Montreal in 1937 and the open record of 4:14.0 set by R. H. Thomas of England when he won the mile at the inaugural British Empire Games in Hamilton in 1930.

The 40-event program will also include events for juvenile and midget boys and senior and junior girls in addition to the full slate of championship events.

To Limit Team

Olympics to Cost Canada $1,000 for Each Athlete

MONTREAL, July 26 (CP)—It will cost Canada nearly $1,000 per athlete to participate in the Winter and Summer Olympic Games of 1952, A. Sidney Dawes, president of the Canadian Olympic Association, said here today.

Mr. Dawes, who has just returned from the International Olympic Committee meeting in Copenhagen, said the Canadian association will start an early campaign for finances.

His estimate compares with $600 which it was figured would cover the cost of each competitor in the 1948 Olympics.

Total expenditures by the Canadians in the 1948 Olympics was $106,000 compared with receipts of $127,000. The association now has $19,000 on hand.

ENCOURAGE COMPETITION

"Canada's team will be limited as much as possible, consistent with efficient performance," Mr. Dawes said. "The various governing sports bodies should encourage the greatest possible competition during the next two years so that no available material will be overlooked."

Reporting on the I.O.C. meeting, Mr. Dawes said the committee is making every effort to reduce the number of competitors from each country. He said 6,000 athletes are expected for the Summer Games alone.

Mr. Dawes said preparations for the Winter Games in Oslo are nearly completed. More than $2,500,000 will be spent, including the erection of an artificial-ice rink for hockey. He said he understood the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association is prepared to sponsor a team that will meet the I.O.C. amateur definition.

Bids for the 1960 games have been received from Lausanne, Los Angeles, Buenos Aires and Rome, Mr. Dawes said. Melbourne, Australia, has already been awarded the 1956 games.

Remember When . .

Lou Cumming, Toronto Golf Club, playing in the opening round of the Canadian open at Beaconsfield, Montreal, scored a hole-in-one on the 180-yard, par 3 17th hole, four years ago today. He finished his round with a 42-33—75.

5 IN MEMORIAM

FORSTER—In loving memory of Mrs. Isabelle Forster, 264 Crease Avenue, who passed away July 2d, 1948, at Victoria.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a token of affection
And a heartache still for you.

—Sadly missed by her husband, George B. Forster, 264 Crease Avenue.

GOODWIN—In memory of our loving mother, Mary Elizabeth Goodwin (Randal), who passed away in Victoria on July 27, 1949.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Inserted by Mildred, Ruth, Roger and Charlie.

LONEY—In loving memory of my dear Dad, Patrick Loney, who died July 25, 1946.
Today I am thinking of someone whose grave is so far away; he was so loving, kind and true, whose smile was as dear as sunshine. Dear Dad, that someone is you, loved and sadly missed.
—Mary Deacon Carberry Maw.

SMITH—In memory of Robina, the beloved wife of Harold D. Smith, who died on July 27, 1942.
"Lift us up O Lord in heart and mind to the world invisible, which is our home, so that in fellowship with those who have gone before us we may find courage and strength for our tasks here on earth. Then, Lord, when our work is done, do Thou call us to that high company, where beyond these voices there is peace."

BE INDEPENDENT REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING

That is just what you can do on this well-located property within 3-mile circle of city centre. It comprises a well built 5-room bungalow that has comfortable sized living-room with fireplace, 2 good bedrooms, a well-equipped kitchen, 3-pce. bathroom, central hall, a full high cement basement with drive-in garage. The lot is double-size. Has beautiful lawn, flowers and variety of shrubs and trees. The garden is one of the best; has many fruit trees, grapes, strawberries, raspberries and much more too numerous to mention. The garden is extremely well cared for and is easily capable of producing hundreds of dollars worth of produce. Lot is all fenced. The owner is willing to accept the reasonable price of $7950

NEAR WINDSOR PARK 3-4 BEDROOMS LOVELY GROUNDS

Well built older-type home comprising large entrance and through hall, living-room with fireplace, dining-room, DEN with fireplace, small SEWING room and large bright kitchen. UPSTAIRS there are TWO large and ONE smaller bedrooms and bathroom. Full high cement basement with gas hot-water tank, piped furnace with coils (which is a great saving on the gas bill in the Winter time). Separate garage. Four apple, plum and pear trees on the very lovely grounds, which are also abundant with flowers. The owner is leaving on an extended trip to the Old Country next month and offers this house for a quick sale at the price of only $7350

CITY OF VICTORIA

NO. 3542

A BY-LAW

TO PROVIDE FOR THE EARLY CLOSING OF GASOLINE SERVICE STATIONS

WHEREAS an application signed by not less than three-fourths of the licensed occupiers of gasoline service stations within the City of Victoria has been presented to the Municipal Council of the Corporation of said City praying for the passage of a By-law for closing gasoline service stations during the period of the year and at the times and hours mentioned.

NOW THEREFORE the Municipal Council of The Corporation of the City of Victoria, pursuant to the provisions of the "Shops Regulation and Weekly Holiday Act," enacts as follows:

1 (a) The words "gasoline service station" in this by-law shall mean any automobile garage, automobile service station, automobile repair shop, gasoline service station and any building or portion of a building, booth, stall or place where gasoline or motor crankcase oil is exposed or offered for sale by retail.

(b) The word "closed" in this by-law shall mean not open for sales by retail.

(c) The word "Council" in this by-law shall mean the Municipal Council of The Corporation of the City of Victoria.

(d) The words "City Engineer" in this by-law shall mean the Municipal Engineer of The Corporation of the City of Victoria.

(e) The words "public holiday" in this by-law shall mean Christmas Day and the day immediately following Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Victoria Day, Dominion Day, Labour Day, Thanksgiving Day, Remembrance Day and any day appointed by Proclamation to be a holiday for the purposes of Section 37 of the "Shops Regulation and Weekly Holiday Act."

(f) The words "twenty-four-hour service station" in this by-law shall mean an automobile garage, automobile service or repair shop or gasoline service station, the proprietor, owner or operator of which holds a permit to remain open continuously during twenty-four hours of each and every day and in each and every week (except during Wednesdays after one o'clock in the afternoon, during public holidays and during Sundays) and does so remain open.

2. Subject to the provisions of this by-law and of the "Shops Regulation and Weekly Holiday Act," all gasoline service stations within the City of Victoria shall be closed and remain closed for the sale of gasoline and motor crankcase oil or either of them by retail during the whole of all public holidays, and on every other day shall close and remain closed for such sales at all times before eight o'clock in the forenoon and after six o'clock in the afternoon.

3 All gasoline service stations within the City of Victoria shall also be closed and remain closed for the sale of gasoline and motor crankcase oil or either of them by retail during the whole of all Sundays.

4 (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 3 hereof the City Engineer, in order to make provision for the accommodation of the public, may grant the proprietors, owners or operators of gasoline service stations in the City of Victoria permits (the total not to exceed ten in number at any one time) to operate twenty-four-hour service stations. No permit shall authorize the operation of more than one specified station.

(b) Such permits shall be granted to such applicants as the City Engineer deems most fitted to accommodate the public, and other things being equal he shall have regard to operation by applicants under past permits and to priority of application by applicants who have not formerly held permits. No permit shall be granted to an applicant unless he has been operating a gasoline service station at the place in respect of which a permit is applied for at least six months immediately preceding such application. The City Engineer may in his discretion amend a permit to apply to a station other than the originally specified station.

(c) Every such permit shall be and shall state on its face that it is conditional on the station licensed being operated and open to serve the public by the sale of gasoline and motor crankcase oil during twenty-four hours of each and every day and in each and every week during the time such permit is in effect.

(d) Every such permit shall be for not more than six months, expiring on the 15th day of January and the 15th day of July in each year.

(e) No such permit shall be renewed unless the City Engineer is satisfied that during the currency of the preceding permit the holder has complied with the same at all times during twenty-four hours of each and every day. But the City Engineer may assume such compliance if no written complaint of non-compliance shall have been received by him. No permit holder who has not complied with the terms of his permit shall be granted a further permit for a twenty-four-hour service station until at least twelve months after the expiry of his permit unless the Council shall by resolution otherwise direct.

(f) The holding of a permit to operate a twenty-four-hour service station shall not be a defence to a prosecution under Section 3 hereof if the holder has failed to remain open for twenty-four hours of each and every day and in each and every week during the time such permit has been in effect.

(g) An appeal shall lie to the Council against any decision of the City Engineer by

(i) any person who has been granted a permit subject to conditions which he considers too onerous.

(ii) Any person who has been refused a permit.

Such appeal shall be made in a summary way within seven days by notice in writing to the City Engineer.

5 Every offence against this by-law shall be punishable on summary conviction

Hospital Site Purchased From School

DUNCAN, July 26—Officials of King's Daughters' Hospital board announced today the purchase of eight and one-half acres of property from the Duncan Grammar School as a proposed site for a new hospital.

The property is bounded by Gibbins Road and the old Island Highway and includes the school playing field and some wooded area.

Purchase price was $8,500, payable half in cash and the balance of $750 a year plus interest at 5 per cent annually.

No building plans were announced by the board.

Discuss Roads At Shawnigan

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, July 26.—W. A. Clay, president, presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Chamber of Commerce, held recently in the S.L.A.A. Hall.

A communication from the Department of Public Works expressed regret that funds are not available for the opening of road ends down to the lake, or for widening and resurfacing of the road down to the S.L.A.A. Hall.

The widening project had been started last year, to the extent of moving a house, and the completion of the job had been requested by the chamber.

A letter was ordered sent to the district engineer asking for the patching of pot-holes and rough spots in the district roads.

The chamber will also press for improvements to the Renfrew Road and will urge the Public Works Department to keep the road open during the Winter months.

A report of the recent convention of Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, held recently at Sidney, was given by R. P. Weber, who had attended the convention as delegate, with Mr. Clay and A. Cameron.

A request for information concerning the delay in the building of the promised new school at Shawnigan was ordered sent to the secretary of School District No. 65.

Officer's Transfer Surprise to Port

PORT ALBERNI, July 26—It was with a great deal of surprise that it was learned this week that Cpl. Joseph Howe of the B.C. Police had been transferred to Revelstoke and had left town on Saturday for that destination. This information came forth at this week's council meeting and regret was expressed from all corners of the council table that such a valuable and efficient officer had been transferred on such short notice.

Cpl. Howe had carried out the prosecutor's work in this city ever since his arrival and in that position had saved the city many thousands of dollars. Council will forward a letter of appreciation to Cpl. Howe at Revelstoke.

AUSTRALIA'S POPULATION

In 1946, the population of Australia was estimated at 7,912,000.

Pony Rides Popular With Youngsters

Colonist Photo by James Ryan

Sidney Carnival and Sports Day, held at Sidney Memorial Park last week was a big day for the children. Pony rides were highlight of the day and long lines of children waited their turn to climb into saddle. Christopher Blome-Jones, 6, of Beacon Avenue, Sidney, was about busiest boy at the meet. Dressed as clown he rode a bike in parade and later turned cowboy and boarded horse.

D. R. Cameron Dies, Aged 87

CAMPBELL RIVER, July 26—A veteran of the famous Yukon gold stampede of 1898 died here in hospital Tuesday after a long illness.

He was Daniel Robert Cameron, 87, a native of Antigonish, N.S., and resident here for the past 13 months.

Mr. Cameron had resided with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown.

Funeral services will be held in Vancouver, where he lived for 35 years, on Friday with Rev. C. M. Stewart officiating. Burial will be at Mountain View Cemetery.

He is survived by a brother, J. L. Cameron of Edmonton, two sisters, in addition to Mrs. Brown, Miss E. V. Cameron and Mrs. M. O. Leppallin, both of Vancouver.

Death of Boy Found Accident

CAMPBELL RIVER, July 26.—A verdict of accidental drowning was returned here by a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of seven-year-old Douglas Patrick Thomas.

The boy's body was found floating near the B.C. Packers wharf at Quathiaski Cove early Tuesday after he was reported missing Monday night.

He was discovered by B.C. Police Constables George Kent and William Trant and Joe Gonda, an employee of B.C. Packers.

Coroner Dr. N. B. Hall was in charge of the inquest.

The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas O. Thomas, of Quathiaski Cove. Mr. Thomas is an employee of B.C. Packers.

Funeral services will be held at Victoria at a time and place to be arranged at a later date.

EVESHAM, Worcestershire, England (CP) — The River Avon has turned yellow here. Pollution is suspected.

Single Bid Received On Ferry Service

ONLY tender for the renewal of the ferry service across Baynes Sound between Denman Island and Buckley Bay in the Cumberland district was submitted by the Denman Island Ferry Company.

The tender was for an annual subsidy of $18,000.

The bid was opened by N. W. McCallum, chief engineer of the Provincial Public Works Department.

Port Alberni Asked For School Funds

PORT ALBERNI, July 26—Board of School Trustees of District No. 70, Alberni has notified the City of Port Alberni that the contract for the new junior-senior high school with Baynes & Manning of Vancouver will be signed within the next few days.

The board has requested immediate payment of the amounts payable by the city to defray expenses of the school building program. The matter has been referred to the city's finance committee.

Rites Observed For Fire Victim

Funeral services for Colin Chisholm, who was a victim of a fire last Sunday when his Leechtown home burned, were held yesterday at Shady Creek Cemetery, Saanichton.

Mr. Chisholm was at one time secretary of the Saanich Agricultural Association. He had resided in Leechtown for the past 14 years.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. F. J. McFeely and Mrs. Alex MacDonald of Saanichton, and a nephew, Ted McFeely of Newman Road, Saanich.

Library Workers Ruled Ineligible

PORT ALBERNI, July 26—Workers of the Union Library have been trying for some time to have the City of Port Alberni place them under its Medical Services Association plan, and a further application presented at this week's council meeting has been turned down.

City Solicitor Gordon Campbell pointed out that the idea was not feasible inasmuch as some of the workers were not residents of the city, and inside the city limits was as far as the city's responsibility went.

Famous Barbecued Salmon Again All-Sooke Day Highlight

All-Sooke Day's famous barbecued salmon also attracted "small fry." Above, Ralph Hocken, 2, of 3523 Lorraine Road, and Ian Carmichael, same age, of 1931 Mayfair Drive, investigate method of cooking.

Oak Bay policeman John Green, in horseshoe pitching competition retained his title of Vancouver Island champion.

Expression of strain is evident on face of muscular Phillip Whittaker of Duncan in log-bucking contest. He placed third among Vancouver Island contestants, successfully winning first heat.

Attendance Record of 9,000 Believed Broken

Thousands Follow Instructions to Go Home Tired and Satisfied After Thronging to Highly Successful All-Sooke Day Program

By GORDON FORBES

Cars loaded with funseekers Cars loaded with fun-seekers much the same manner as prospectors to the historic area in 1864 in search of gold.

It was All-Sooke Day, the purpose of which is to perpetuate the memory of the Leech River gold rush. In that year hundreds of prospectors arrived by schooner and other craft and by overland trail from Victoria.

Yesterday the rush was on again as thousands flocked to the Sooke River Flats where the biggest, most complete entertainment possible to squeeze into one day was asking to be enjoyed.

ATTENDANCE HIGH

Officials believed attendance had slightly edged last year's record of 9,000 One committee member was confident there were 10,000 delighted persons on the well located grounds

"We want you all to go home tired and satisfied," boomed a big voice through a public address system.

Everyone did just that They went home with the feeling that the show, sponsored by the Sooke Community Association, had been a great success in its 14th presentation Most person's feelings were summed up in this remark by a visiting Vancouverite:

"You know you have to hand it to these country people They sure know how to put over a show like this I'll be back next year and I'm going to bring some friends"

PEOPLE BRING FRIENDS

This is the sort of thing which has made All-Sooke Day the continued success it has been since the first affair in the thirties People come on a look-see basis and return with friends.

If the evidence a reporter can gather while mingling with the crowd means anything, Sooke can be assured of more successes in its "day of the year" There is little doubt that if the function ever was discontinued it would be a great loss to the whole area

ORCHID FOR CARSON

Public Works Minister E C Carson, who officially opened the show, was tossed an orchid by the committee in charge He was thanked wholeheartedly for having Sooke Road in good condition for the heavy traffic to the gala picnic

The full program started with children's races which saw throngs of eager youngsters competing for good prizes There was some doubt as to whom the races affected most — the competing children or the anxious parents. Novelty races for adults produced comical situations and set the crowd off in a holiday mood Grown-ups, not accustomed to such contests, broke down and got into the spirit of the day. Tiny tots stood astounded and open-mouthed when they saw "daddy and mummy" performing in front of "all those people

SURPRISE

"I never knew daddy could run" a curly-headed, ice cream-licking child said to her mother.

A horseshoe-pitching contest attracted many oldtimers whose eyes closely followed the flight of the shoes. Taking top honors for the Oak Bay Police Constable John Vancouver Island championship was Green. He also won last year

The logging sports, staged in the middle of the throng, were the big crowd-pleasers. Spectators cheered their favorite contestants on as if they were at the old Willows horse race track

"C'MON, BILL!"

"C'mon, Big Bill! Show 'em how! Show 'em how it's done in our outfit'' was a typical cheering section shout

Big Hugh McKenzie of Ladysmith won the tree-chopping contest, doing the job in three minutes and 35 seconds Right behind him was last year's winner. Elmer "Smoky" Stolth of Sooke, who completed the task in three minutes, 35 seconds. Excitement rose to a high pitch as the two men swung their way through the trees. The log-chopping contest was won by Allen Woodrow of Courtenay. In second place was Phillip Whittaker, last year's champion, from Duncan. Harry Helgesen was the victor in the log-rolling contest.

FOR ISLAND TITLE

All logging sports were for the championship of the Island. The grim determination of participants made the women's nail-driving contest one of the features of the sports. Mrs. James Turner, Royal Oak, was the winner.

The Daily Colonist Challenge Cup for the tug-of-war was won by Sooke, coached by Elmer Stolth.

While the sports were going on, refreshment and food stands did a roaring business. Top attraction on the menu was barbecued salmon, which is cooked in the open, and barbecued beef, cooked in the way the gold miners cooked it. The method was adopted from the Sooke Indians

ALDER FIRES

For the beef a pit is dug and in it specially selected alder is fired for about 18 hours. When two or three feet of glowing charcoal is obtained, roasts of 50 to 60 pounds are placed on the embers after being wrapped in paper and burlap and immersed in brine. The beef is covered with charcoal and sandy soil is added to smother the fire and conserve the heat The beef is left to cook for about ten hours and then taken piping hot from the pit for carving and serving

Barbecued salmon is cooked in the open First the fish are split and placed between wire grids which are lined on edge along a ditch of glowing alder logs. This alder is specially selected, too, because it must contain a certain amount of sap to provide a slight density of smoke and aroma to flavor the fish as it cooks

The big day naturally had its share of crying babies and lost children, and no doubt last night produced its share of aches among the small fry who over-indulged in candy and pop Evidently remembering their childhood days, parents were generous when the familiar plea of "I wanna nickel" was heard Parents kept on digging down and the kids kept beating a path to the pop stand.

The St John Ambulance was on hand to deal with any sick persons. The entire area was alive with camera fans Nudging ahead of everybody to get "exclusive" pictures, the camera fiends bore the brunt of many "sit down in front" jeers from the crowds To the ardent camera fans, the criticism meant little, but they did at least take their pictures from a prone position.

There were screams of delight as lucky program numbers were called over the loudspeaker in abundant numbers.

FLAG AT HALF-MAST

Few noticed it, but the flag was at half-mast in memory of the former Prime Minister W L Mackenzie King

Master of ceremonies was a man whose absence would have been a bitter disappointment to Sooke residents. He was Constable Allan Quinn who has been stationed at Sooke for many years, and recently was transferred He came back for the day on special invitation. And he worked hard Perspiring officials, ever on the go, had little rest but enjoyed themselves immensely.

City dwellers were amazed at the gentle manner in which loggers handled their axes. They unwrapped the large double-bitted axes with the gentleness required in handling a newborn baby. Saw-filers, too, gingerly handled competitors' saws.

Chemainus Tightens Water Use Controls

CHEMAINUS, July 26—With continued dry weather, water restrictions went into effect at Chemainus this week. Districts have been divided, with alternate watering days during the week, and no watering on Sundays.

This decision was deemed necessary not only to maintain sufficient water for domestic use, but to provide necessary water pressure in event of fire.

Ladysmith Group Busy

Oyster-Growers Set Out Shell Strings in Harbor

LADYSMITH, July 26—Oyster breeding in Ladysmith Harbor is in full swing

On Sunday, John Malamus laid out more than 1,000 strings of shells here to catch the "spat" baby oysters on the move searching for places to cease their wanderings. Finding a "clean" shell conveniently placed for them they will settle down.

On Sunday afternoon a large-scale spawning took place over the local beds. Walter Jones, dean of oyster growers here, is preparing to catch the "set" from this spawn, which he says should occur in 13 days to three weeks, depending on the weather.

Temperatures have been 20 degrees C. and more, registered on the thermograph at the shellfish laboratory—good breeding weather

Dr. D. B Quayle, in charge of the laboratory, will give the go-ahead sign for the dropping of shells following examination of plankton in the water. Laying out of shell too far ahead of time means certain loss, because the shells become covered with debris in the water, and an oyster seed must have a clean surface on which to settle

Annual meeting of the B C Oyster Growers' Association, formed in July last year, has been postponed until the Summer work is done. Walter Jones is president and Ed. Timothy, secretary.

Port Alberni Sends Message of Sympathy

PORT ALBERNI, July 26—The death of former Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King was touched on by City Solicitor Gordon Campbell at this week's meeting of the City Council.

Mr. Campbell thought that a fitting message of condolence and sympathy should be sent to Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

A motion to this effect was carried.

POINTERS for car buyers

The Simple Truth About "EASY TERMS"

It is often more convenient to buy a car out of income, rather than pay cash.

But to do so involves additional cost. So it is important to keep this cost as low as possible. For instance, twenty-four months of financing service costs twice as much as twelve.

The cheapest and best way to buy on time payments is to pay all you can down and pay as much per month as you can comfortably afford.

Don't be misled by so-called "Easy" payments. Take time to check on all costs as well as services proposed when you buy.

Ships to Be Checked On Arrival Off Coast

—MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS—

United States Pacific Coast ports slapped stiff security measures yesterday on all in-bound foreign shipping.

The action is designed to guard coast ports against "Trojan horse" ships which might be carrying atomic bombs and other weapons which could be used against the United States.

Federal officials at San Francisco confirmed that customs inspectors there will board and examine all foreign ships as they enter the three-mile limit.

Collector of Customs Paul Leake reported the ships would be searched by inspectors carrying Geiger counters and any indications of atomic or bacteriological warfare cargoes or any improper ship registration would result in holding a ship offshore for full investigation.

TO SCREEN CREWS

The Coast Guard, to co-operate with the customs service in conducting the examinations, will also administer a screening program for ship crews

A newly-ordered Government loyalty check to prevent Communists from shipping on American merchant vessels was expected to be instituted immediately.

Ships entering Puget Sound ports under foreign flags will be stopped and inspected "somewhere in the Strait of Juan de Fuca," customs collector Howard MacGowen said in Seattle yesterday.

"Any vessel which rouses any suspicion will be held in some Strait bay until a thorough investigation can be made," he added.

PLENTY OF PLACES

The official said that there are "plenty of such places for detention of ships where cities would not be endangered."

Foreign ships entering the Columbia River will be inspected for atomic bombs soon

Mrs. Nan Wood Honeyman, collector of customs for the Oregon district, said security measures like those begun in San Francisco can be expected.

TUNA CATCH GOOD

The fishboat Allayane docked here yesterday with 6,000 pounds of tuna It was skippered by Capt. G G Dodds.

Andy Carr, of Kyuquot Trollers said yesterday that he was "looking for two more boats to come in Thursday" with tuna catches.

The latest haul brings to a total of 20 000 pounds the amount of tuna brought in to the Kyuquot Trollers since the start of the season

Jim Dunn, of B C Packers, said Wednesday that no tuna haul had been brought in during the day but there might be a "possibility" of some coming in today

ESTEVAN RETURNS

The Department of Transport supply ship Estevan returned here Monday night from a successful trip up the coast to visit departmental stations.

T. E Morrison, agent here for the department, said yesterday that the Estevan had brought back a lifeboat from Bamfield on the return journey.

Another lifeboat at the Bamfield station will be put to use while the department checks over the one returned.

MUTINY DENIED

A Department of Transport spokesman at Quebec denied yesterday a report that "mutinous incidents" preceded the departure Monday of the new icebreaker C. D. Howe for Northern waters.

A previous report had said that "several facts seem to confirm" rumors of "mutinous incidents" aboard the 2,000-ton vessel.

The official said that the icebreaker, replacing the Arctic supply ship Nascopie, sailed on a delayed schedule.

He declared the delay was due to mechanical adjustments necessary in a new ship.

DOCTOR STRICKEN

The destroyer H M A S. Australia was ordered yesterday to proceed full speed from Melbourne to Heard Island, Australian Antarctic expedition post, to remove a doctor stricken with acute appendicitis

The freighter Perthshire was forced back by mountainous seas Tuesday night when she attempted to reach the island.

The doctor, Serge Udovikoff, will be replaced by another physician.

VISITORS AT PICNIC

Visiting American boat enthusiasts joined members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club Sunday at the club's annual picnic at Smugglers' Cove on Chatham Island, not distant from Oak Bay

A large number of power and sailing craft took part in the picnic procession. There were special "treasure hunts" for both adults and children.

Reasonably stiff breezes forced operators of smaller-type sailboats to use caution One such craft was demasted and had to be towed to shelter

SEAMEN ARRESTED

Four crew members of the freighter Strathmore were arrested Tuesday at Anchorage, Alaska, and were charged with "incitation of seamen to revolt and mutiny," following a fight aboard ship

The complaint was signed by Capt E E Butler, skipper of the Strathmore Shipping Company vessel

Butler charged in the action that the men beat shipmates and refused to obey orders to quieten down.

The complaint alleged the men "disobeyed and resisted lawful orders in a tumultuous manner" within the Admiralty and Maritime jurisdiction of the United States

The men charged were Henry F Bacon, Marion McClure, Arthur C Roy and Roy J Jones They were held in jail in lieu of $3 000 bail.

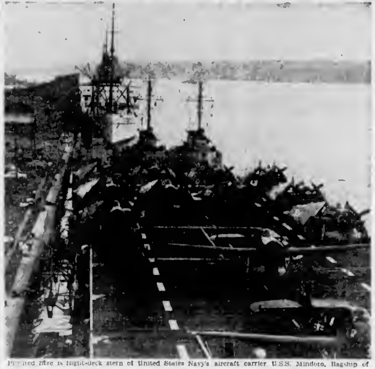
U.S. Carrier Pays Good-Will Visit to Quebec



Pictured here is flight-deck stern of United States Navy's aircraft carrier U.S.S. Mindoro, flagship of Task Force 81, which arrived at Quebec City recently to mark first postwar good-will trip of U.S. Navy to Quebec City. Directly behind "flat-top" can be seen three of seven destroyer escort which accompanied carrier, and Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland, which docked at Quebec one day before group. Task Force 81, commanded by Rear Admiral R. E Blick, U.S.N., is an anti-submarine group equipped with aircraft and ships specially designed to participate in action against "subs" in North Atlantic and is at present on eight-week training cruise for U.S. Navy, reserve midshipmen Ships remained at Quebec for several days, guests of Royal Canadian Navy, Army and Quebec City, then sailed for their home base at Norfolk, Va.

Replies to Pearkes

Will Not Recommission Cruiser, Says Minister

H M C S Uganda, Canadian cruiser now decommissioned at Esquimalt, will not be recommissioned at this time, according to Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence.

Mr Claxton, replying to a suggestion from Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., that the ship should be made active, said it was unnecessary at this time in view of the large number of commissioned cruisers already at the disposal of the North Atlantic Pact powers. Mr. Claxton's statement came yesterday in a letter to General Peakes.

Mr. Claxton stressed the need for recommissioning destroyers and other other smaller vessels. (He announced recently that the destroyers Crescent and Crusader would be recommissioned.)

General Pearkes last night stressed again the importance of having Uganda available here. "The lack of naval defences on the West Coast and the steadily deteriorating situation in Korea make it most important that we have larger vessels ready," he said.

Emphasizing the seriousness of the war in the East, he said that the House of Commons should reassemble immediately to discuss further aid to the United Nations forces in Korea.

Royal Canadian Navy Yacht Club Sets First Annual Regatta for Tomorrow

The first annual regatta of the recently-formed Royal Canadian Navy Yacht Club will be held tomorrow evening when vessels from that organization and other yachting groups of the area will sail from Cadboro Bay to Esquimalt Harbor

Cmdr. J. C. Reed, commodore of the navy's yacht club, said yesterday three perpetual trophies had been arranged for various classes of sailing craft. The trophy for "C" class craft has been provided by officers of the H M C S. Naden wardroom, the Lightning class trophy is from Jack Davis, and the trophy for the Snipe class from the ship's company of Naden. Miniature replicas of the various awards will be kept by winning yachtsmen, while the larger trophies will be held on a year-to-year basis.

It is expected a number of sailing vessels under the Royal Victoria Yacht Club banner will be competing in tomorrow evening's events Invitations have also been sent to the Nanaimo and Maple Bay yachting fraternities.

Races open to all classes will be staged in waters of Esquimalt on Sunday, starting at 10 a m and there will be a special luncheon at 12 30 p.m. that day for all race competitors aboard the cruiser H M C S Ontario Prizes for the regatta will be awarded at that time by Rear Admiral H G De Wolfe, Flag Officer Pacific Coast.

Faked Taxi Call Clears Way For Theft of $97 From Office

A faked call for a taxi to a non-existent address was used again early Wednesday morning to facilitate the breaking and entering of a taxi stand.

Currie Baker, driver for Jubilee Taxi, 1774 Fort Street, told city detectives the stand was broken into and about $97 stolen while he was out.

The driver said he received a call to go to a Gorge Road address which he discovered, after searching the district, didn't exist On his return to the cab stand, which had been left unattended during his short absence, he discovered the cash drawer had been forced

A hatchet found on a filing cabinet is being held by detectives for fingerprinting. It is believed the tool was used to force the drawer.

This same procedure was used by a burglar who recently broke into the Black & White Taxi, View Street, and escaped with a considerable sum of money.

Noted Scout Chief Plans Visit to Camp at Sooke

A renowned Scout figure will make a two-day visit to the British Columbia Cubmasters' training course at Sooke's Camp Barnard from August 15 to 17.

He is John Thurman, camp chief at Gilwell Park, England, international training centre for Boy Scout leaders in England.

Mr. Thurman is at present attending a number of Canadian Gilwell Courses. He visited the Canadian Scouters' Training Centre from July 17 to 23 and is now attending the Maritimes Scoutmaster Course.

On his way across Canada to Victoria, Mr. Thurman will attend the Ontario Scoutmaster Course and the Prairie Scoutmaster Course.

Mr. Thurman is being accompanied on the tour by E. F. Mills executive commissioner for training, British Columbia and Prairie courses, and by W. L. Currier, deputy chief executive commissioner at the Ontario and Quebec courses.

Mr. Thurman is returning from a tour of Australia and New Zealand.

He will conduct discussions during his two-day stay at Camp Barnard, and any district scouters are invited to attend.

Gift Fruit From B.C.

Teacher Brings Thanks From U.K. for Apples

A message of deep appreciation for British Columbia gift apples has been brought back to Canada from English school children.

Carrier of the report is Herbert Moorehouse 24 Government Street, a night school art teacher, who has just returned from a trip to Great Britain.

"Everywhere I went in Yorkshire and Lancashire I was asked to thank Canadians for the gift apples for children," stated Mr. Moorehouse in an interview yesterday.

(In the House of Commons in London recently the Government, after repeated queries from the Conservatives, acknowledged that only a small portion of the apples was distributed free to school children. The rest was sold in a normal way at an estimated profit of £500,000 which will go to food subsidies.)

MADE POINT

So many Victoria persons were wondering about the distribution of the apples that Mr. Moorehouse made a point of finding out about it when he arrived in Keighley, Yorkshire.

"I am happy to say that all school children received their quota of the apples," stated Mr. Moorehouse. "The newspapers in the area made a big splash of the distribution and published many pictures showing kiddies eating the apples."

The editor of The Keighley News told Mr. Moorehouse to come back and tell Canadians the apples were a godsend to the children, many of whom never before had tasted apples. The Victorian found apples in English stores priced at about 10 cents each.

Threat Eased; B.C. Forests To Stay Open

The tourist industry got at least a temporary reprieve yesterday from the threat that the forest hazard might require the closing of forest highways to traffic.

Consideration was being given on Tuesday by Forestry officials to the possibility of taking such action.

Although there were new fires reported in some parts of the province Wednesday morning, the arrival of cooler weather Tuesday night ruled out the immediate need for forest closures.

A total of 66 fires were burning in British Columbia yesterday and 584 men were fighting them.

HARDEST HIT

Kamloops forest district was hardest hit with eight new fires bringing the total now raging in the area to 24. A total of 354 men are employed battling the Kamloops blazes. There are four fires in the district which "are not completely guarded."

The hazard in the Vancouver forest district, which includes Vancouver Island, has dropped. There were ten fires burning and 153 men employed. All fires in the district are under control.

With rain showers being welcomed over the Prince Rupert forest district, the fire hazard was reported only "moderate w". Hazard in the Prince George area was said to be only "moderate." Hazard in the Nelson district was described also as "moderate to high."

Seattle Violinist Plays for School

Frank Beezhold, first violinist of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, was guest artist at Tuesday's Summer School recital.

He played Mendelssohn's E Minor Concerto, Stravinski "Berceuse," Kalinnikow's "Legende" and other modern Russian works.

Y.M.C.A. Arranges Autumn Program Ranging from Canasta to Wrestling

What is to be the most extensive Autumn program ever conducted by the Victoria Y.M.C.A. is now being arranged, according to Bob Morrison, program director.

To get under way in September—one month earlier than usual—the program will include activities for every taste. Folk dancing and lessons in Canasta will be but two of the activities planned for the social section while wrestling and judo instruction have been added to the physical department activities.

Mr. Morrison reports hobby crafts will again be featured, and there will be special courses in public speaking and the Spanish language. A volleyball league is to be formed early in the season. A badminton club is to be formed.

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting is to be held Friday starting at 7.30 p.m., at which a committee will be appointed to handle musical phases of the program, including Sunday evening music hours and the formation of a choral group. It is hoped to have various local musical artists participate in the Sunday evening music programs.

Each Wednesday night there will be a special program devoted to young adults who are strangers in the city. Activities will be designed to give such persons an opportunity of meeting new friends and of joining them in a number of enjoyable activities.

Details, dates and times of activities may be obtained at the Y.M.C.A.

Meal in Cafe Cosmopolitan

With the tourist season in full swing, Victoria is taking on a really cosmopolitan flavor.

At a city restaurant last night, for instance, a score of American tourists were served South African lobster and baked Alaska cod prepared by Swiss Chef Carl Breitschmidt.

The visitors were members of the Byrne Circle Tour, which left Spokane and will return August 4 after a swing through the Canadian Rockies.

Victoria Pair Will Attend Detroit Games

A city woman and her 11-year-old daughter will represent Victoria at the 101st Highland Games Tournament to be held at Detroit, Mich., August 12.

Leaving the city Sunday will be Mrs. Adeline Duncan and daughter, Heather, of 439 Durban Street.

They will attend the annual event after visits to relatives in the East. The games are sponsored by the St. Andrew's Society of Detroit.

Accompanying Mrs. Duncan will be one of her dancing students, 17-year-old Mavis Manzer, of New Westminster.

More than 500 "kilties" are expected to appear in the St. Andrew's Scottish Tattoo at the University of Detroit Stadium. The value of regalia and instruments on display will "exceed the quarter million dollar mark."

MASSED BANDS

Massed bands taking part in the show, the greatest of its kind this year on the American Continent, will include the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, the 48th Highlanders of Canada and the R.C.A.F. pipe band.

Girls pipe bands will include the Heather Highlanders, of Youngstown, Ohio, the Georgetown Pipe Band, the Toronto St. Andrews Band and the Toronto Girls' Pipe Band.

Grand marshal of the pipe bands will be Pipe Major Jock Cairns, of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders.

Honored guest will be Gilbert W. Carmichael, of Minneapolis, royal chief of the Order of Scottish Clans.

Loss by Fire During Year $7,556,229

The 1949 fire loss in British Columbia amounted to $7,556,229 according to the provincial fire marshal.

The 1949 loss was $408,507 greater than the loss experienced in 1948. There were 9,181 fires in 1949 and 5,774 in 1948.

Loss of life due to fires showed a decrease in 1949, however when 45 persons were killed by fire, compared with 58 in 1948.

Carelessness on the part of smokers was listed as the chief cause of fires, accounting for 2,087 of the total blazes. Fires caused by other reasons included short circuit, 388, sparks from fireplaces, 344, electrical appliances, 332, defective chimneys, 281; sparks from chimneys, 232, stove or stovepipe insufficiently protected, 313.

Almond Brittle
A really fine piece of confection and always popular. It is referred to in many different ways, some call it English Toffee or Victoria Brittle, and it is for the candy clerk to know what is wished, but to the candy maker it is just Almond Brittle.
